Dunbar Gets Saugerties Clerk Position Resigned by Snyder

John J. Dunbar of Oakledge Park, Saugerties, was unanimously named village clerk of the Village of Saugerties at a special meeting of the village board Monday evening. All members of the village board and Mayor George Holmes were present. Mr. Dunbar will succeed Gerald L. Snyder who resigned May 20 to accept a position with the C & E Trucking Company of Staatsburg who recently constructed a trailer terminal in Saugerties. The resignation of Clerk Snyder will become effective Wednesday and Mr. Dunbar will assume his new duties on Friday, May 31.

The position, which Mr. Snyder held since 1949, pays $4,600 with an additional $100 as registrar of vital statistics.

Mr. Snyder gave as his reason for resigning the position at the time he submitted his resignation as "insecurity" due to the fact that the village board had not increased the clerk's salary at the time other village salaries were raised and also that he desired to take a position in private business.

There were three applications for the position. Mrs. Joan Muller of West Camp; Mynderse Russell of Esopus Road, Town of Saugerties, and Mr. Dunbar who was the only applicant to reside within the Village of Saugerties. Russell conducts a gas station on Ulster avenue, Saugerties.

John J. Dunbar formerly was a deputy private clerk of the Kings County surrogate's office, Brooklyn, for 14 years; has been associated with the Kings County district attorney's office and was also with Consolidated Edison and Standard Oil in New York city. He is a veteran of World War 1 and served during that period as chief yeoman in the United States Navy.

NAACP to Have Supreme Court Hearing On Contempt Charges, $100,000 Fine

By PAUL M. YOST

Washington, May 28 (AP)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) has won a Supreme Court hearing in its fight against contempt charges and a $100,000 fine imposed on it by a Montgomery, Ala., judge.

Circuit Court Judge Walter B. Jones of Montgomery ruled the NAACP was guilty of contempt and levied a fine following the organization's refusal to submit its membership rolls to Alabama authorities for inspection.

The high tribunal yesterday agreed to hear arguments, probably next fall, on an NAACP appeal which contended that if it disclosed the names of its members, they would be subjected to reprisals and intimidation.

Jones also issued an injunction prohibiting NAACP from operating in Alabama, but this ban was not directly involved in the appeal considered yesterday.

Atty. Gen. John Patterson of Alabama had asked the high court to deny a hearing to the NAACP. He said the case did not involve the segregation issue, but concerned only the power of a state to compel out-of-state corporations to conform to state laws enacted for the protection of Alabama citizens.

In another action, the Supreme Court voting 7-2, smashed hopes of a group of convicted income tax evaders to win shorter prison sentences.

The individuals — including New York gambler Frank Costello—were sentenced under a section of tax law dealing with evasion. This section provides a maximum penalty of up to five years in prison and $10,000 fine. They contended they should have been sentenced under another section dealing with false returns and carrying a penalty of up to one year and $1,000 fine.

Non-Residents, Parkers to Pay

Opening Day for Beach At Point Is June 7th

The municipal beach at Kingston Point will be officially opened to the public at noon Friday, June 7, it was announced today by Andrew J. Murphy 3rd, superintendent of city recreation.

The beach will remain open Saturday, June 8, and Sunday, June 9, from 10:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. It will then be closed until Friday, June 14, at which time it will again be opened at noon for the weekend.

Summer Schedule

Beginning Friday, June 21, the beach will remain open from 10:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. daily until Labor Day—with the exception of special nocturnal activities scheduled at the beach.

Lifeguards will be on duty at all times during which the beach is officially open to the public, Mr. Murphy explained.

Weather Factor

He pointed out that it was usual procedure to open the beach on a full time schedule when school closed but that if the weather were favorable the department would consider an earlier opening.

Mr. Murphy called attention to several changes in the operation of the beach for the 1957 season.

Charges Established

This year a charge will be made for parking privileges as follows:

All residents of the city of Kingston using the beach parking lot must pay a 25-cent parking fee.

Out-of-towners must pay a parking fee of $1.

Residents of the city may purchase decals at city hall or at the beach by showing their automobile registrations. The decal will be placed on the side window of the car and afford ready identification of local vehicles.

Non-Residents to Pay

An admission charge of 10 cents for each non-resident of the city will be assessed. Mr. Murphy explained that this would apply to persons coming by foot. For instance a busload of people might be discharged at the main entrance.

However, all occupants of cars paying the parking fee will be admitted to the beach free of charge.

The charge for all buses parking at the beach will be $2 each.

Chamber Report Is Public Lacks Trains Interest

A lack of public interest in area rail passenger service was reported today by a spokesman for the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. Very few calls or letters have been received after the appeal was made for comments and suggestions last week.

As a result of several inquiries the Chambers of Commerce of both Kingston and Rhinebeck appointed special committees to study rail passenger service, particularly at Rhinecliff, and determine if changes or improvements in the service are needed in the interest of public convenience and necessity.

A further effort will be made by both Chambers of Commerce to ascertain public interest in train service. The spokesman for the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce stated, "Apparently some people believe a growing area should have good rail passenger service but very few make regular use of the service available. Unless a greater demand develops than seems to exist at the present time very little can be done to obtain better service."

Court Order Favors Town On Trailers

The Town of Ulster can now enforce its ordinance regulating trailer camps under an order signed Monday by Supreme Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth.

The order denies a temporary injunction sought by owners of trailer camps and vacates a preliminary stay granted earlier.

Improper, Say Owners

Six owners of camps in the township had sought to enjoin the town from enforcing its ordinance regulating house trailers and house trailer camps, claiming that the ordinance is vague, unreasonable, onerous and confiscatory. They also contended that it was improperly adopted.

With denial of the injunction the ordinance is now enforceable against each trailer and house trailer camp in the township.

Other Provisions

Among other provisions, the ordinance requires house trailer camp operators to submit an application for a license and to submit a complete plan of the proposed house trailer camp, including a plot plan of the property and a proposed layout showing the extent and area to be used for house trailer camp purposes, proposed roadways and driveways, proposed location and site for house trailer location and construction of all proposed sanitary conveniences, the plan for water supply, electric lights and a plan for toilet, washrooms and laundry.

Arguments were heard April 1 before Justice Elsworth at Monticello with Aaron Klein appearing for the plaintiffs and Louis DiDonna, town attorney, for the town of Ulster.

List of Plaintiffs

Plaintiffs in the action were: Robert D. Mitchell, Trailer Haven, East Chester street bypass; Anthony S. Cicoria, Sawkill Trailer Park, Sawkill road; Arthur Granquist, Art's Esso, Sawkill; Kenneth Rice, Spring Lake Trailer Park, Spring Lake; Mattie Every, Mattie Every's Trailer Park, Flatbush avenue extension, and Paul Nelson, Paul & Kay's, Onteora Trail.

The ordinance in question was adopted by the township on April 27.

Aim for Fairness

Supervisor Percy Bush submitted an affidavit on behalf of the township, explaining that the "Town Board and Planning Board sought to write an ordinance which would permit house trailers as much freedom and opportunity as was possible within the framework of our community life where the rights, privileges and duties of all residents must be given equal consideration."

An application by a trailer camp proprietor or trailer house owner must be approved by the town health officer and town board. The town clerk must within 30 days after receipt of the application approve or reject the application and certify the reasons for his action.

Fees Charged

Individual house trailers in the township are subject to a $10 license fee per annum, while house trailer camps are assessed on a sliding scale starting with a $50 license fee for a camp having a capacity of not more than 10 trailers.

The ordinance also provides

Fallout Heavy In Test Sector

Blast Equal to About Half of Bombs Used to Destroy Jap Cities in WW2

Atomic Test Site, Nev., May 28 (AP)—The United States exploded a brilliant atomic device into the desert darkness today, opening its summer series of Nevada tests as disarmament talks proceeded in London with the possibility of ending nuclear experiments.

Unearthly Light

The 10-kiloton device flared an unearthly light over the test center. A tremendous mushroom cloud erupted into the pre-dawn sky. Shot time was 4:55 a. m.

The rising cloud blended at its base against low-hanging blue clouds on the northern horizon.

The top of the cloud coiled and boiled into the sky and drifted away from its stem.

The first faint rays of the sun capped the soaring mass with a creamy mantle. Below the cloud cap the familiar dirty brown mushroom stem held firm and then began to lose its identity.

Emphasis on Fallout

Great emphasis is being placed in this series on reduction of fallout of radioactive material. Test manager James E. Reeves said after the blast he was very pleased at the fallout pattern.

"Heavy fallout," he said, "was in the test area and only light long-delayed fallout will occur in off site areas."

He said it would be impossible to determine for several hours what off site areas might receive fallout.

Spectacular as was the explosion, it was small compared with other tests carried out here during the five years the United States has tested atomic weapons on the Nevada desert.

The flash was seen in several nearby states, including California, Arizona and Utah. Witnesses at most distant points described it as very quick and not nearly as bright as the flashes of some previous tests.

Cloud Photographed

The 10-kiloton power of today's device is equal to the energy of 10,000 tons of TNT. This is about one half the bombs which destroyed the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in World War 2. Bombs of more than 20 kilotons have been tested here.

As the blast went off from atop a 500-feet tower at Yucca flat 70 miles northwest of Las Vegas 31 aircraft streaked into the radio-active field to photograph the mushroom cloud and to track its path as the light wind carried it away.

In observation post ringing the test site were 200 military personnel. The test was witnessed by newsmen from a site 11 miles away.

This explosion, delayed since May 16 by adverse wind conditions, was intended to provide the Atomic Energy Commission with information on radiation

Expiration Date Is Friday

1,300 Chauffeurs Have Not Renewed Licenses

Approximately half of the chauffeur licenses in Ulster county which must be renewed by June 1, have been renewed but there still remains about 1,300 holders of chauffeur licenses who will need to renew them prior to the Motor Vehicle Bureau office Friday afternoon.

Due to Memorial Day on Thursday, the local office will be closed and there remains but today, Wednesday and Friday to secure renewals by those whose chauffeur license expired May 31, 1957.

Light Year

This year is a comparatively light year for renewals Deputy County Clerk Ralph Post said today. There are about 2,500 licenses in the county expiring this year and to date 1,200 have been renewed.

The usual questions are to be answered, pictures must accompany renewals and the fee is $6 for three years.

Medical Questions

Deputy County Clerk Post, in charge of the motor vehicle office on Main street, called attention to the usual "medical" questions which must be answered. If the answer is "yes" in regard to any of the diseases experienced during the past three years, or during the term of the existing license, the license is not renewable at the local office but must be sent to the Safety Section of the Bureau in Albany.

If the disease was suffered prior to the issuance of last license the license is renewable here. In both cases a a doctor's certificate attesting to the present condition of applicant is required. Medical forms are available at the local Motor Vehicle Bureau office.

In the event the applicant has physical disability the application is referred to the local motor vehicle examiner who will ascertain whether such physical disability hampers the fitness of the applicant to operate a motor vehicle. On renewals where physical disability existed at the time of the issuance of the last license, the applicant will be sent to the inspector who will review the case.

Smog-Warning System Planned in New York

New York, May 28 (AP)—The Metropolitan regional conference has moved to set up a smog-warning system in the New York area.

The conference approved yesterday a recommendation to place air-sampling devices throughout the metropolitan area. The warning system would alert communities when air pollution reached a danger point.

Officials from 22 counties and 50 communities in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut attended the conference meeting at City Hall.

The proposal for a smog-warning system came from the conference's subcommittee on air-pollution. Mayor Steven Bercik of Elizabeth, N. J., heads the unit.

Bercik explained that the system would warn community officials to crack down on sources of pollution when smog approached a critical point.

Other Matters

In other action the session:

1. Adopted a resolution by Mayor Thomas F. J. Quigley of Stamford, Conn., opposing proposed federal legislation that would weaken federal regulatory powers over the pricing of natural gas in interstate commerce.

2. Approved a proposal for study of the Metropolitan Rapid Transit Commission's plan to link the Manhattan subway system with a rail loop in New Jersey.

3. Agreed to press for legislation to solve the disparity in teen-age drinking laws in the three states.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who was re-elected conference chairman, told the group that regional problems "spill over from one community into another" and "cannot be solved piecemeal."

The conference replaced its temporary steering committee with a permanent executive board.

Appellate Division Dismisses Charges

New York, May 28 (AP)—The Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court has dismissed charges against two Suffolk county officials involved in last year's wave of fraud indictments.

Stephen F. Meschutt, 65, a county supervisor, was cleared yesterday of any conflict-of-interest taint in voting to deposit $200,000 in county funds in a bank where he was a director.

J. Milford Kirkup, 47, county welfare commissioner, was cleared of charges in a scheme to use the county's credit in the cut-rate purchase of drugs and equipment.

The charges against the two officials grew out of a probe of the Republican-controlled county by former Democratic State Investigation Commissioner J. Irwin Shapiro.

Awaits Hearing

Miami, Fla., May 28 (AP) — A 27-year-old woman was in the Dade county jail today awaiting a preliminary hearing Friday on a charge of first degree murder in the stabbing of her estranged husband, formerly of Gloversville, N. Y. Mrs. Linda Ostrom of Miami was accused of knifing William F. Ostrom, 41, on a street Saturday in front of her home in the city's northwest section. He died about six hours later. Herman Methfessel, attorney for Mrs. Ostrom, quoted her yesterday as saying she had been hospitalized many times because of "repeated beatings" inflicted upon her by Ostrom.

Javits Asks Help For Arab Refugees In Palestine

New York, May 28 (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R.-N. Y.) said today the United States should "spark a major drive" now for resettlement of Arab refugees in Palestine.

He also called for implementation of the Johnston plan for development of the Jordan river valley.

In a speech prepared for a Brooklyn regional meeting of Hadassah, a Jewish women's organization, the senator said:

"In order to move ahead constructively with the Palestine Arab resettlement plan I believe U. S. ambassadors to Middle Eastern nations should be summoned . . . to block out a diplomatic campaign to win acceptance for the Johnston plan as a first step among governments involved."

In 1953 Eric Johnston, President Eisenhower's special representative on the Middle East, undertook to win agreement from Israel and the Arab states on a joint plan for conserving Jordan river water and increasing irrigation in the arid Middle East. The plan has never been accepted, however, by all states involved.

Stands in Way of Peace

"The Palestine Arab refugees," continued Javits, "remain one of the most nettling problems standing in the way of affirmative progress toward permanent peace and regional cooperation in the Middle East.

"For some time, Egypt's dictator, Col. Nasser, has been the principal advocate of continuing to use 800,000 unhappy individuals as the main unsettling factor in the Mideast by blocking efforts to resettle them in Arab lands."

Javits said Nasser's "influence over the Arab world is on the wane."

"In the Johnston plan we have an opportunity to thwart the dreams of Col. Nasser and his Communist friends for Middle East control," the senator added.

Syria Accuses Jordan of Pact Violation Act

Damascus, Syria, May 28 (AP)—Syria has accused Jordan of violating the Egyptian-Syrian-Jordanian military agreement in ordering Syrian troops out of the Hashemite kingdom.

The 4,000-5,000 Syrian troops were sent into Jordan under the three-nation past when Israel invaded the Sinai peninsula last November. Ostensibly they were there to protect Jordan against Israel, but many observers anticipated a Syrian-Egyptian move to divide Jordan.

Syria withdrew the force last week after Jordan said conditions no longer necessitated its presence.

In a longstatement blasting King Hussein's policy, a Syrian military spokesman in Damascus also denied Jordanian charges that Syrian officers helped stir up the recent Jordan political crisis.

Pledges Cooperation

Tripoli, Libya, May 28 (AP)—Abdul Majid Kobar, Libya's new prime minister, last night pledged his government to cooperate with the other Arab states and promised "every support to Algerians fighting to regain their stolen rights." 1. To promote an interchange of ideas and experience concerning the work of the clerks of children's courts and domestic relations courts.

2. To develop a consensus of opinion as to the most efficient methods.

Speed Leading Cause of One-Car Mishaps, Report

The leading cause of one-car accidents is speed, Joseph Scott, chairman of the Ulster County Safety Council, said today in urging parents to caution their teen-age sons and daughters against reckless driving.

He recommended that parents advise their children to refuse to ride in cars operated by "speed demons."

Far too many cars are leaving the highways because their speed is too great, especially for the curves, Mr. Scott said.

Probably the best way to avoid this type of accident is for the passengers to tell the driver they wish to obey the speed limits and that unless he does so they'll have him stop the car so they can get out, Mr. Scott suggested.

"To prevent accidents on the highways it is the responsibility of the passengers and the driver to obey all traffic rules. We hope that parents will educate their children on the death and despair that can come from driving carelessly and not following traffic safety rules.

"The Ulster County Safety Council reminds us that speed limit on the New York State Thruway is 60 MPH and on Route 9W it is 50 MPH except through villages and cities, where it is less."

Dr. Lewi, 99, Dies

New York, May 28 (AP)—Dr. Maurice J. Lewi, 99, a sprightly physician devoted to cigars, whiskey and the human foot, died yesterday at his hotel apartment. Lewi was founder and president of the New York College of Podiatry. He was credited with almost singlehandedly raising podiatry — the treatment of foot ailments—to professional status. Lewi had been confined to his apartment after suffering a broken arm last November. But he continued to run the affairs of the college.

'BRAVE NEW WORLD'

Another school year has about run its course and a fresh crop of college graduates soon will undertake the business of making their way in the America of 1957 and beyond.

The world they will walk out into is, of course, the same turbulent place it has been for nearly three decades marked by the Great Depression, World War II, the Korean War and the titanic struggle between East and West on a plane suspended between peace and war.

Yet there are mounting indications that neither the United States nor the Soviet Union, the two great powers standing opposite each other in the struggle, can indefinitely bear the tensions it has produced.

Here at home the President's record peacetime budget is a central issue. But most of the attackers direct their fire at the flanks. The core of the difficulty—massive defense programs—largely baffles lawmakers in both our major parties.

In the Soviet Union the strain of the arms race with America, plus the continuing effort to catch up with our remarkably productive industrial economy, has led to political and economic problems of a high magnitude. Changes are in prospect which could threaten the very system they seek to spread across the globe.

In consequence there seems a real disposition against war and toward a softening of attitudes that might bring it on. That does not mean Russia intends to yield its dreams of conquest. The Communists simply are looking to other avenues to pursue their course.

So the world faced by 1957's graduates still contains the long range menace of an ambitious tyranny. But it is a bit more stable in the sense that the prospect of ruinous nuclear warfare seems lessened.

Within our borders, opportunity beckons the newcomers as never before. Business scouts comb the campuses for anybody with half a talent or more. The nation's economy goes on growing in pace with the country itself.

As the politicians back and fill in generally futile efforts to alter the blunt facts of the East-West power struggle, eager and imaginative men respond to the challenge presented by an economy that almost daily makes exciting strides forward into new areas.

Yesterday's miracles of science become tomorrow's commonplaces on the factory line. And as they do, they make a story so fascinating that many a youngster fresh from school will grasp at the chance to play a part.

No doubt about it, 1957 is a good year for freshmen citizens to hit the trail.

A new do-it-yourself addict says he understands what compels other fellows to pursue the hobby. He finished a set of home-built bookcases and he's as proud of the finished job as were those who erected the pyramids.

TWO NOTABLE VENTURES

Two anniversary dates in May mark a notably signficant span in development of transportation in the air and on the land.

On May 20, 1927, Charles A. Lindbergh took off from New York City in the most famous of all long distance non-stop solo airplane flights. He landed in Paris 33 hours, 29 minutes, 30 seconds later.

This was 24 years after Dr. Horatio N. Jackson, a Vermont physician, drove his Winton on the first cross-country automobile trip, leaving San Francisco May 23, 1903, and arriving in New York City 63 days later.

Dr. Jackson's name is not a standout in history. Yet his 63-day journey, while not as spectacular as Lindbergh's, was a demontration of the rugged durability of his machine, to say nothing of the driver. As for Lindbergh's feat, it will be recognized for all time as one of the most thrilling achievements in aviation annals.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

HOW MUCH CAN WE AFFORD?

I come back to the same question all the time because it is the one question that the politicians dodge. It is the question: How much can be afford to spend?

Only the Treasury can answer the question rationally. The President has answered it sentimentally and his point is that peace is cheaper than war no matter what peace costs. This, in the 19th Century, would have been wholly true. In the 20th Century, it is not so because Soviet Russia, our permanent enemy, uses peace as a weapon of war.

This, then, raises many complex questions, among them, the question, why cannot we employ peace as an instrument of war as the Russians have? The fact is that we cannot. We have failed whenever we have tried, except perhaps in Turkey. Surely Formosa cannot understand a policy that blows hot and cold, and even Spain is astonished at a friendship which is so beautiful in the making and so slow in its implementation. What would we do if West Germany went into East Germany or if rebellions started again in Poland and Hungary? The Russians speak to the masses and promise heaven on earth and somehow what they say sounds reasonable although everybody knows that heaven stays in heaven and the earth stays on earth.

When to the intangible mysteries of Marxism, Soviet Russia adds Polish tanks and Czechoslovakian airplanes, as was done in Egypt and Syria, the effect is most violently anti-American although we have been spending tens of billions of dollars to make ourselves beloved as the givers of tanks and the purveyors of planes and even of bombs. Why we fail to make lasting friends is a mystery that requires not so much political as psychoanalytical research.

It must be admitted that we have been good to the British, helping them in two wars and lending and giving them money in between wars in enormous quantities. But we did make quite a to-do about Indian independence starting way back after World War I and continuing right through to this very day. So we destroyed the British Empire and no matter what a gentle face anyone wants to put upon it, the fact is that the British Empire is destroyed and that no euphemism called the Commonwealth of Nations is the same thing. The last job we did was in Egypt where the United States backed the upstart Nasser against Great Britain and so completely routed the British that the Eden government fell humiliated. Eden is sick, of course, but he was sick before Cairo; he could not sustain himself after Cairo.

The cold fact is that this country let down its closest friend and ally and has not gained the friendship of the country it aided, namely, Egypt which has remained a satellite of Soviet Russia.

This is an example of the sort of failure we encounter. And that brings us to the United States Information Agency which is in the budget for a big chunk of money, although it never seems to be much good for the purpose for which it was created, namely, to do propaganda favorable to the United States which will win us friends. The enterprise has been managed by a university president, a radio network operator and now by a law school dean who is an amateur musician. No matter who runs this expensive agency, it has regularly proved to be a dud.

Instead of complaining about all the money the USIA costs, Congress ought to inquire as to why it is a dud. Senator Joe McCarthy tried to do it. He encountered White House resistance over this agency. He never got very far, although he probed deeply. He did not get far, because the White House ran interference for the agency.

Today, Congress investigates the question of expenditures, but that is really missing the point. If the agency does the job it needs to do, the expense is not great. What Congress ought to do is to inquire what it gets for the dollar spent. Then, if the money is wasted on futile jobs for lazy men and women who prefer to live abroad, the whole thing should be abolished and a start made all over again. I recommend a hard-boiled, tough-minded former president of the United Press, Hugh Baillie, as suitable for such a job.

ABDOMINAL SYMPTOMS OF LITTLE STROKES

The famous Dr. Walter Alvarez of the Mayo Clinic has given a great deal to modern medicine and I would like to pass along to my readers, particularly those over 60 (and their sons and daughters), a part of what he has to say on the subject of "The Abdominal Symptoms of Little Strokes."

He says, "Every year I see elderly patients for whom the tentative diagnosis of abdominal cancer, made in the patient's home city, cannot be confirmed. Later, the course of the disease shows that, from the beginning, the patient must have been suffering from the type of abdominal distress that comes with a little stroke. I see enough of these cases each year to show me that the syndrome (group of symptoms) is not rare. I think there should be a chapter on little strokes in every book on gasthoenterology (the study of the stomach and intestine and their diseases); perhaps some day there will be."

What is meant by a little stroke? It is the group of symtoms that results from the thrombosis (plug or clot in a blood vessel) of a tiny or small artery in a fairly silent area of the brain. Instead of paralysis of one side of the body and perhaps loss of power of proper speech, there may be loss of the old comfortable sense of balance. The patient may complain of nausea, vomiting, distress or pain in the abdomen, a great and rapid loss of weight, a burning of the skin over the abdomen, some loss of memory, a change in character, or a decided loss of ability.

When a little stroke suddenly produces nausea, vomiting, and abdominal pain, the diagnosis is often thought to be "acute indigestion." An example given is a woman who had previously had an ironclad indigestion but at the age of 58 began to get short spells of dizziness and vomiting. She would remain in bed for a day or two, weak and dizzy and perhaps a bit dazed. This went on for some years and at post mortem her brain was found to be speckled with little black or brown thrombi; there were plenty there to explain all her attacks or "acute indigestion."

Another example is of a 43-year-old woman who awoke one morning feeling dizzy and vomiting. She lost her ability to smell foods and perfumes. She lost all joy and interest in life, even in her well-loved children. She had spells of depression and lost much of her memory. Later she had more dizzy spells, great loss of weight, and loss of memory. Because so much of her distress came from nausea and vomiting, she spent most of her time demanding treatment for indigestion.

"One of our great industrialists had a little stroke in his 70's which was followed by the loss of 50 pounds in weight. I was called to see him because he later had several brief spells of diarrhea (diarrhea and weight loss are so often associated with cancer). I found they were associated with transitory nervous shocks. The diagnosis was easy because, with each little shock, his formerly powerful legs became a bit more rubbery and he shoved his feet along a little more shakily."

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, May 28 (AP)—More and more of those planes crowding the nation's air lanes today are flying executives and technicians on corporate business.

As industry spreads out over the land and becomes more complicated, flying becomes part of the routine. And more corporations are buying their own planes and hiring their own pilots and maintenance men.

Safety programs of necessity are spreading from the military post and commercial hangar to the business office.

In 1946 business owned about 2,500 planes. Ten years later it had about 23,000. In some cases two or more small firms share one plane.

Big Investment

The National Business Aircraft Assn. estimates investment in business flying, including maintenance, at 475 million dollars. The planes range from small personal types to huge ones that can cost more than one million dollars completely fitted.

The Flight Safety Foundation, which started its business aircraft safety program in 1955, estimates that business owned planes will be ticking off 5¾ million flying hours by 1960. The more planes, the more flying, and therefore the greater the safety problem in crowded skies.

Civil Aeronautics Administration figures for 1954, latest available for all types of flying, puts the fatal accident rate for all business flying at 7.10 per 100 million miles. This is sharply higher than the rate of the U. S. domestic airlines, which was 0.50 per 100 million miles, but notably lower than the fatality rate for pleasure flying which was 95 per 100 million miles.

Safety Program

The Foundation's safety program now serves 122 companies owning and operating aircraft for business. It issues business pilots safety bulletins and sponsors seminars to give business pilots a chance to share information in navigation, traffic control, communications and general operations.

Corporate planes are located in all sections of the nation. The New England Council, for example, says there are 800 such planes in the six northeastern states.

Company planes are mainly at the disposal of top corporate executives. But in these complicated times they are used increasingly by other employes. Sales officials, top technicians, purchasing agents and labor relations men are flown to spots needing attention.

Reminds of Trends

A large portion of the planes flying business men are headed for New York, the financial capital, or Washington, the political capital — sharp reminder of trends in business. And these planes may be carrying tax experts, attorneys, public relations, advertising or safety experts.

Some corporate fleets rack up a lot of mileage in a year. Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., with its subsidiary, Goodyear Aircraft Corp. owns 11 planes. It reports the fleet flew 500,000 miles in 1956, carrying employes to 125 cities in 36 states, with side tips to Canada, Mexico and Cuba.

Raytheon of Waltham, Mass., which owns five planes and sometimes leases others, reports covering 600,000 miles last year, checking on its 34 plants.

Small Firms Included

Small as well as big companies keep planes busy. The Bank Lithograph Co., of Pawtucket, R. I., has one plane, flying 1,000 hours a year. In Maine, Bangor Hydro-Electric planes check its lines among other corporate tasks.

And other forms of transportation find planes can be handy. In Vermont, the St. Johnsbury Trucking Co. has a small plane to keep officials in contact with its officers over New England, New York and New Jersey.

A Daily Communique to Tell Progress of 'Cold War' Urged

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 28 — There ought to be a daily "communique" on the way the "cold war" is going—its victories and defeats. This is how the "communique" could be written today:

1. Victory for the Communists in Formosa: The anti-American demonstrations there were "definitely organized" in advance of the riots. American officials in Formosa now say the activity may have been inspired by Chinese political elements on the island anxious to make a deal with Communist China. It was a "natural" for the Communists to try to inflame the Chinese on Formosa over the acquittal of an American soldier who killed a Chinese prowler outside his home.

2. Victory for the Communists in the United States: Demands are being heard that American forces be withdrawn from overseas "to save money." For several years now Moscow and Peiping have been behind that strategy. The idea is being taken up now in the American Congress, where cuts in the budget may force the withdrawal of at least one army division from overseas and possibly more. The Air Force and Navy of the United States will also be weakened. This is good news for Moscow.

3. Victory for the Communists in America: A drive is on to cause America and Britain, respectively, to stop the testing of nuclear weapons even without any agreement in advance that the Soviets will stop their tests. This crusade has been going on for several years now—helped by millions of dollars being spent in propaganda by the Soviets to influence and dupe the American and British peoples and particularly the American Congress. British Prime Minister Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Lloyd have publicly denounced the scheme as Communist in origin, but Americans are not yet fully alerted to it.

Progress in Middle East

4. Victory for the United States against the Communist: The Middle Eastern situation, where the starting of a world war has been averted, is now becoming favorable to the American viewpoint. Cyrus Sulzberger, widely known as a traveling correspondent for the "New York Times," who has been studying the Middle East and has been critical of the State Department's policy in the past, says in a Paris dispatch:

"So far, out new Middle Eastern policy seems to be working remarkably well. In varying degrees all the Arab states but Egypt and Syria indicate appreciation of the Eisenhower doctrine or at least of its intentions. Israel welcomes its pacifying effect. Moscow is visibly displeased.

"Secretary Dulles, who earned a full measure of blame for past American ineptitude in the area, deserves equal credit for the speed with which he has managed to stabilize an unpromising situation. Much, indeed, remains to be done before any permanent benefits can be measured. But we appear to have captured the initiative."

The same dispatch says that it "is apparent the Syria's hostile government is weakening and Egypt's is nervously conscious of its isolation."

Yet only last February the skeptics were critizing the Eisenhower Doctrine and many members of Congress voted reluctantly for it, believing it would not do much good.

Critics Are Silent Now

Now the critics ane silent. Interest has turned away from the achievement of peace in the Middle East, and all eyes are on the Federal budget in Congress. The change in the Middle East, however, has been truly sensational. Even many of the British and French who thought it would have been better to "finish the fight" at Suez now realize that this would have meant endless guerrilla warfare and a multiplicity of situations like those that have caused the British so much anguish and expense in Cyprus and the French such a headache in Algeria.

The victory for American policy in the Middle East is a victory also for the sensible leaders of the Arab countries and Israel who saw in President Eisenhower an impartial leader—concerned only with the avoidance of war and the maintenance of peace.

Meanwhile, the understanding of the American viewpoint by the British and French people is growing. Unfortunately, this is the time selected by some members of Congress to cut down the services of the U. S. Information Agency. Over the week end it was announced from London that the work of the American agency inside Britain would have to be curtailed for budget reasons. Probably this will happen also with respect to France.

Can't Afford Cable Tolls

Shortsighted members of Congress have been asking what the need is for information services to those two countries. The answer in part is that most newspapers abroad cannot afford to pay cable tolls on the full texts of America's statements of policy. The U. S. Information Agency provides these texts free. Also is it important for the U. S. Information Agency to have representatives on the spot to explain the American viewpoint to editors abroad. This effort cannot be carried on by the State Department, as it is a specialized field requiring personnel trained in that line of work. It is much better to keep it separate from the rigid rule of the diplomatic service.

America could encounter many defeats in the "cold war" if it doesn't keep up its efforts to offset the propaganda of the Communists, which, incidentally, is very intensive inside Britain and France, working constantly with "left wing" elements and misrepresenting and distorting the American viewpoint.

The "cold war" is a new game for America, and it is regrettable that so many members of Congress haven't begun to understand how effective the Communists are in it, as witness, for instance, the way they have overnight turned the Formosa situation upside down. But it isn't all over there yet either. The Nationalist government will expose the plot in due time.

Levitt Blames GOP For Money Problem

Albany, N. Y., March 28 (AP)—State Comptroller Arthur Levitt says President Eisenhower's policy on montetary controls has created "a serious financial problem" for state and local governments.

The President announced Saturday he would continue to rely on general monetary controls to curb expansion of credit rather than ask Congress for special power to impose credit controls.

Levitt, a Democrat, said yesterday that because of this policy state and local governments must compete with private interests in borrowing "the limited amount of available capital."

As a result, he said, sharp increases in the cost of public borrowing would be reflected in higher local tax rates.

Levitt said it was his belief that "we are now experiencing a rising tide of budget consciousness."

'Unless some means is found to reduce the cost of borrowing," he said, "public construction will be seriously curtailed."

Levitt said that presidential stand-by power to impose controls on consumer installment buying would "provide our monetary policy with the flexibility it needs" to meet such conditions.

Highway Plan

Lansing, Mich. (AP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams says a "vigorous but reasonable and fair traffic law enforcement can reduce the number of fatilities on highways. Noting a reduction in traffic fatilties in Michigan in 1956, the governor credited "increased state police patrols, better control of driver licensing and suspension of licenses of dangerous drivers, use of national guard troops to re-enforce state police and sheriffs' road patrols, and widespread publicity.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—NEA—Advocates of the high dam at Hells Canyon on the Snake River between Idaho and Oregon won't give up.

They are fighting to have one big public power dam built instead of the two smaller dams which Idaho Power Co. has already started at Brownlee and Oxbow. They have lost every round so far.

High-dam forces lost their long battle against Idaho Power before the Federal Power Commission in 1955. They lost before the Supreme Court this year. Still they go on fighting.

Their latest tactics are to beat the Office of Defense Mobilization over the head for granting 65 million dollars' worth of fast tax write-offs to the Idaho company.

Senators Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and Joseph C. O'Mahoney of the Senate Judiciary Monopoly subcommittee and public power advocates in general are trying to make this into another Dixon-Yates scandal.

Their inferences are that authorizing Idaho Power to build the two low dams and then giving them fast tax write-offs was all part of a conspiracy to boost the private power monopoly and set back public power development.

Idaho Power applied for fast tax write-offs on its two proposed dams in 1953. At that time Office of Defense Mobilization was trying to increase U. S. electric power production above the 75 million kilowatt capacity of 1951. The goal today is just double that —150 million kilowatt capacity by 1958.

THE IDAHO POWER applications came within this expansion goal.

So as soon as Federal Power Commission and the Supreme Court cleared the legal obstacles, ODM authorized the tax incentives. It had no legal grounds for doing anything else.

What Idaho Power gets out of this is proportionately just what 913 other private power company expansions will have received between 1951 and 1961 in accelerated tax amortization allowances. The amount of these write-offs is estimated at around four billion dollars, or 61 per cent of their six and a half billion dollar total cost.

The first 912 of these projects were approved without objection from anyone. The unlucky 913th, which went to Idaho Power, is jumped on because its two low dams are in conflict with the Hells Canyon public power project.

There is plenty that can be said in favor of the high dam for full development of the Snake River resources.

There is plenty more that can be said against all 913 of the private power expansion tax incentives.

PRIVATE POWER industry spokesmen have been boasting—or complaining—that they paid full taxes on all their facilities.

Yet since 1951 they have been receiving these special tax benefits. What they really amount to are five-year, interest-free government loans.

As new ODM Director Gordon Gray explained it to the Kefauver subcommittee in the Idaho Power case:

"The company will save interest on the tax payments, which amounts it might otherwise have to borrow. The government pays interest on the money it has to borrow to make up for the tax deferment. But starting with the sixth year, the government gets increased tax revenue because smaller tax deductions will be available to the company. And at the end of the useful life of the two facilities, the government will have received the deferred taxes."

A high-dam, public power bill is before Congress for a third test again this year. Hells Canyon backers think it has a chance.

If it should sneak through, it would face a probable presidential veto. And if that obstacle could be overridden, heavy damages would have to be paid Idaho Power Co., which has already started construction at Brownlee.

Still the Hells Canyon high-dam forces keep fighting.

Floods Subsiding

Dallas, May 28 (AP) — Cloudbursts dumped up to eight inches of rain on scattered parts of Texas yesterday, but major flooding appeared to be subsiding in many sections of the southwest. Thousands of persons remained homeless, however, in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas as rivers and streams continued to overflow or run near bankful from earlier torrential rains. Some of the 2,100 persons driven out by the flooding Trinity river in Dallas hoped to return to their homes today.

Two Pickets Slain

Guntersville, Ala., May 28 (AP) —It was quiet today around a construction project where gunfire killed two men and wounded six others. The shooting yesterday resulted in a $250,000 damage suit filed in Marshall Circuit Court here against United Mine Workers, District 50. The court action was filed by Gulf States Construction Co., Inc., of Atlanta, whose workers clashed with UMW pickets at a plant being constructed for the Cotton Producers Assn.

Judge Is Impeached

Tallahassee, Fla., May 28 (AP) —Circuit Judge George E. Holt was impeached yesterday by the Florida House which approved an investigating committee's report that the Miami judge had brought "his court into scandal and disrepute" and was no longer fit to serve as a jurist. The vote to impeach was 65-25. Holt has served as circuit judge for 16 years. He is disqualified from his judicial duties pending the outcome of his trial by the State Senate.

NAACP to Have

for the court majority, said the stiffer section applied specifically to tax evasion and the individuals were properly sentenced. Justices Douglas and Black dissented.

The ruling was given on an appeal filed by Sam Archilli, who was sentenced in Federal District Court in Chicago.

Would Send Costello Back

Costello, who has served part of his sentence, has been free on bond. In New York, U. S. Attorney Paul Williams said it normally would take 25 days for the Supreme Court ruling to reach the lower court. But he said he was "studying the situation" to see if he could send Costello back to prison more quickly.

Voting unanimously, the court ordered new trials for Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald and two others convicted in New York on charges of conspiracy to fix criminal income tax prosecutions. The others are Daniel A. Bolich, a former assistant commissioner of revenue, and Max Halperin, a New York attorney.

'Fatal Error' Cited

Justice Harlan said the convictions had to be set aside because of what he said was the trial judge's "fatal error" in instructions to the jury on technical points in the conspiracy law.

In still another action, the court granted a hearing next term to Communist leaders Gilbert Green and Henry Winston, who face three-year prison sentences on contempt charges. The sentences, given to them in U. S. District Court in New York, resulted from their flight to avoid serving five-year terms for conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Red Radio Calls On Chinese to Drive Out Yanks

Hong Kong, May 28 (AP) — Peiping radio declared today the people of China "could no longer tolerate the U. S. aggressors" on Formosa and called on the Nationalists to drive the Americans out.

The blast was the latest in Peiping's propaganda exploitation of Taipei's anti-American riots Friday over a U. S. Army court's acquittal of M/Sgt. Robert E. Reynolds of Colora, Md., in the fatal shooting of a Chinese prowler.

The broadcast quoting the official Peiping Peoples Daily contained some of the bitterest and most inflammatory denunciation of the United States that monitors of the Red radio could recall.

Declaring that indignation meetings were sweeping the mainland over the Reynolds incident, the broadcast urged the Nationalists to "drive the American aggressors out of the island for the sake of peaceful unification of our great motherland."

Serious Warning

The broadcast also issued a "serious warning to U. S. imperialism" that Formosans would "not tolerate the turning of this part of Chinese territory into an American colony."

"The U. S. imperialists regard Taiwan (Formosa) as their colony," the statement said. "They are copying the despicable tricks that have been used by all colonialists.

"They are arrogantly interfering in all aspects of Taiwan's affairs. Military personnel of the U. S. manhandle and slaughter Taiwan residents, rape women, get drunk and stage brawls. To the American aggressors our compatriots in Taiwan are nothing but slaves to be ordered about at will by the U. S. and cannon fodder necessary in wars of aggression."

The statement likened the handling of Reynolds' case to the old days on the mainland when, it said, "our country had been a paradise for imperialist adventurers."

California's Tulainyo Lake, at an elevation of 12,865 feet, is the highest lake in the United States.

ADMITS SLAYING—Claire Van Horn, 46, left, of London, Ontario, walked into a San Francisco police station May 27 and told police he had killed his 27-year-old niece, Mrs. Nancy McLennan, right. Police said the uncle, separated from his wife and seeking a divorce, had asked the dance instructor, who was also separated from her husband, to marry him. Mrs. McLennan was hit over the head five times with a hammer as she lay in bed in her Monlo Park, Calif., home. (AP Wirephoto)

Gromyko Blames U. S. for Possible Arms Breakdown

London, May 28 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko last night blamed the Western Powers, and particularly the United States, in advance for any breakdown that develops in the current disarmament talks in London.

Gromyko's speech, at a reception in Budapest, contrasted with cordially optimistic sentiments voiced by Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin and U. S. Delegate Harold Stassen at the resumption of the UN disarmament talks yesterday.

Moscow radio broadcast the remarks by Zorin's boss. Gromyko said:

Forecast Difficult

"It would be difficult to forecast today how the disarmament talks . . . will end. We must, however, not be unmindful of the fact that in western countries, especially on the other side of the Atlantic, there is still more talk about armament than about disarmament."

Gromyko asserted that Russia would continue to adhere to the principle of ending the arms race and the necessity of banning atomic and hydrogen bombs. He added:

"We would like to hope that the governments of the Western Powers will take up a more sober attitude as regards disarmament and will abandon their policy of obstruction which they have pursued during so many years at the disarmament talks."

Would Change Programs

Washington, May 28 (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation informed its members this week that "there appears to be a great deal of sentiment" in Congress for overhauling of federal farm programs. In its news letter, the farm organization said this sentiment favored a "return to the free market where farmers get their incomes in the market place" rather than a part of it from the government in the form of subsidies. The letter stated, however, that there is little likelihood that any major farm legislation will be enacted at this session of Congress.

Ike, Adenauer Agree

Washington, May 28 (AP) — President Eisenhower and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer agreed today to press for a limited disarmament agreement with Russia "under an effective system of international control." The two men proclaimed this in a communique summing up three days of intensive talks on urgent international problems. Eisenhower and the 81-year-old German leader agreed, the announcement said, that if initial East-West disarmament steps succeed they should be "followed within a reasonable time by a comprehensive disarmament agreement."

Coalition in Haiti

Port au Prince, Haiti, May 28 (AP)—Haiti's Leftist Provisional President Daniel Fignole today named a coalition cabinet to help him govern this strife-torn Caribbean republic. He described the appointees—10 ministers and 2 undersecretaries—as "men of experience" who would assist him in dispelling what he termed "the spectre of civil war and "anarchy." Fignole said his government regards it as "a point of honor" to achieve peace and stability in the nation and that his rule would be that of "a true democracy."

BEATS WALKING—Patroling store aisles by the mile, day in and day out, isn't an easy job, as any floorwalker will tell you. Herb Cohen found this out a few weeks after he opened his two-block-long Gee Williker's Store in Monroeville, Pa. Feeling that his daily chore was making him more tired than a man of 32 should get, he purchased a scooter, the type used on golf courses. Now before the store opens, Cohen (on scooter) whizzes from counter to counter inspecting things to see that everything is shipshape.

Farmers Share Less

Washington, May 28 (AP)—The agriculture department reported today that the farmer's share of the consumer food dollar was 39 cents during the first quarter of this year. This compared with 40 cents during the last quarter of 1956 but was the same as the corresponding quarter a year ago. During World War 2 the farm share rose to 54 cents. Charges for marketing farm-produced foods were 4 per cent higher in the first quarter of this year than in the same period last year.

Taxi Driver Hurt In Traffic Mishap Checking on Tire

Anthony A. Cecilia, 19, of 56 Sycamore street, suffered a cut on the left shin in a two-car mishap Monday afternoon on Route 28 about three miles north of Kingston.

A station wagon, operated by Walter Luss, 37, of Jackson Heights, L. I., proceeding in the same direction, struck the Cecilia car in the rear, it was reported.

The rear of the taxicab was damaged but was able to proceed under its own power. The station wagon was towed into Kingston for repairs.

Play Wins in Any Distribution

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South had a weak overcall and if his partner had not jumped all the way to game he would have played for a part score only.

In order to make game South had to hold himself to two diamond losers and no trump losers.

East won the opening club lead with the ace and returned a trump. South won, ruffed a club in dummy and led a second trump. After a moment's thought he decided to make the normal play for a trump break and dropped West's queen.

Dummy's ace and king of spades were played next and one diamond discarded. A third spade was ruffed in hope that the queen would drop. When this did not happen it was necessary to go after the diamonds.

South's diamond play is very instructive. He had marked East with the ace of diamonds for his opening bid. Therefore he ruffed his last club to get to dummy and played the five of diamonds. East played the eight and South the nine. This play constituted a finesse against the ten but it lost.

West led his fourth spade. South ruffed that and laid down the jack of diamonds. West was too smart to cover but that didn't matter. South played low from dummy and East had to play the ace.

It is interesting to note that South's play would have worked against any combination of cards that included the ten of diamonds in the East hand or against the singleton ace in addition to the actual holding.

Never Missed

Lynchburg, Va. (AP)—C. Snead Sharp went to a Baptist Sunday school on the first Sunday in March, 1901. Fifty-six years and 2,912 Sundays later he had not missed a Sunday. The first 12 years he attended First Baptist Church and thereafter College Hill Baptist. "I just never think about it unless someone mentions it to me," Sharp said after 56 years of perfect attendance.

The Mature Parent

'Making' Boy Like You Just Makes You Anxious

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Miss Miserable":

I think it's indeed difficult to be the "steady date" of a boy who is often late for engagements, breaks them and has to be asked "When do I see you again?"

Perhaps you'd better stop listening to this boy's assurances that he likes you—and realize his actions tell you he isn't sure of this at all.

Let's leave him alone until he is.

When we think we have to make up boys' minds for them on this matter, we are allowing the boys' uncertainty to make us demanding and provocative. We resent this deeply. Though we may still imagine we want the boys, we seldom do. We dislike them for making us pursue them.

Do you remember the Greek statue called "Venus de Milo"? Listen to what a young English painter named Michael Ayrton says about her: "She holds peace in her slow rhythms, for this ideal woman is not provocative. It is not that she is sexless, far from it—but she is not there to stimulate. That is the task of fashion. She is there as the haven of return."

Then he reminds us that the appeal of Venus de Milo has outlasted centuries of changing fashions in sirens and other demanding women.

Today's girls need to accept the truth in Ayrton's words.

They see so many movies and advertisements, read so many stories that glorify girls who "make" boys like them that they feel they have to force their boy friends to like them, too. What the writer of the movies, ads and fiction don't tell us is that this responsibility keeps us anxious and resentful.

Just as a boy's uncertainty about us keeps us miserably pursuing him, so his decisiveness about us restores us the "slow rhythms" of the Goddess of Love. We relax. We begin to glow. Because we can feel the boy's decisiveness and directness, our real nature as woman begins to blossom in warmth and response.

He's always worth waiting for—the boy who needs no help in deciding what he wants.

Mother Weeps Openly

Hackensack, N. J., May 28 (AP)—The mother of 15-year-old Ruth Starr Zeitler wept openly here yesterday as her daughter, victim of a rape-slaying, was laid to rest. The girl's body was found in a wooded glen in Paramus last Thursday, and an autopsy report said she had been the victim of a sexual assault. After questioning 40 persons in the case, police arrested a schoolmate of the girl's, Ronald Marrone, and charged him with the murder. The 18-year-old church leader sat in a jail cell yesterday as his classmates, stunned and grieved, attended Ruth's funeral.

Three Acquitted In Montessi Death

Venice, Italy, May 28 (AP)—A three-judge court today returned its formal verdict acquitting all three top defendants of complicity in the death of pretty Wilma Montesi.

The decision ended a three-month trial that slumped to its anti-climax last week when State Prosecutor Cesare Palminteri told the court the prosecution's chief witnesses had lied repeatedly. Palminteri said no proof had been developed against any of the three accused.

The trial started in a blaze of publicity with rumors of dope and sex orgies in high social circles and of influence wielding by leading officials. The body of the 20-year-old girl was found on a beach near Rome three years ago.

Acquitted were Gianpiero Piccioni, 34-year-old jazz pianist, who was accused of manslaughter by allegedly abandoning Wilma's body on the deserted beach; Ugo Montagna, Rome playboy and self-styled marquis, and Saverio Polito, former Rome police chief. Montagna and Polito were accused of trying to cover up for Piccioni.

Now science endows underwear with the power to soothe away arthritic-like pain

by Alma Griffin

A leading New York manufacturer has just perfected a way to turn a suit of underwear into an electro-therapy treatment. Just think what this means to those who suffer with those terrific aches and pains so often associated with arthritis and rheumatism!

Many men and women who have tried this amazing discovery give glowing reports on how they found blessed relief from the agony of knotted muscles and stiff joints — just as if they had undergone expensive tribo-electric treatments under a specialist's care. Actually thousands of people who have sought such treatments on the advice of their physicians may soon be saved the inconvenience — and expense! Thanks to this American manufacturer's exhaustive research and experiments, they may enjoy the often-miraculous benefits of electro-therapy as they go comfortably about their business.

It all started in France. A renowned French physician spent years studying the therapeutic effects of tribo-electricity (that's electricity produced by rubbing)—and noted that marvelous results were achieved with those suffering from arthritic-like pains. However, the chief source of relief-giving electro-therapy was complex static machines — and treatment was naturally as costly as it was uncomfortable. Relief, unfortunately, was available to so few. The urgent need for less complicated methods of electro-therapy was obvious.

So the years of research began — and so the remarkable tribo-electrical properties of certain synthetic yarns were discovered.

After having controlled tribo-electrical activity of materials, it was tempting to apply their special therapeutic properties — in the simplest way — to underwear.

Extensive testing began on acute cases of stiff joints and knotted muscles so often associated with arthritis and rheumatism. The results were phenomenal. 84% of all the patients treated showed a marked improvement — nearly all experienced the soothing sensation of relief and well being.

If it worked in France it will work in America — that's what our pioneering American manufacturer thought as he read the medical report on this dramatic French experiment. In less time than it takes to tell it he had made arrangements to obtain exclusive American rights for the importing of this revolutionary new yarn — for use in underwear designed for the express purpose of soothing arthritic-like pain. When his first samples were completed, they looked just like the fine underwear his famous mills have been turning out for 57 years. The wonderful relief-giving powers were sealed within the fibres of the yarn itself—invisibly, permanently, through wearing and washing.

But the proof was in the wearing. Our manufacturer contacted friends — and friends of friends — who suffered with stiff joints and aching muscles. He explained his remarkable new product and asked them to act as guinea pigs. They were skeptical, of course — but people who experience this excruciating pain are usually willing to try anything that offers any hope at all of easing their discomfort.

"It's called WONDERWEAR," he explained. "You simply put it on and wear it like ordinary underwear — but as you move about your daily routine you will begin to feel the difference. The slightest movement of your body will put the specially treated yarn to work—will actually generate soothing electro-therapy all day long. "Mind you," he said, "WONDERWEAR won't cure arthritis and rheumatism — in fact no cure is yet known — but it may give you welcome relief from pain."

Almost overnight the experiment was obviously a success. The wife of the president of one of our largest utility companies had this to say.

"I'll never forget the first day I experimented with WONDERWEAR. Within a few hours something wonderful happened. A deep penetrating warmth seemed to surge through my body. An indescribable feeling of relief and relaxation crept over me. It was a sensation I had experienced only once before — in a hospital — where I had been sent by my doctor for electro-therapy when my arthritic-like pains became really unbearable. Only then, after many uncomfortable hours in a terrible electro-static 'cage', did I feel a similar surge of sunshine through my poor aching bones. Thank goodness I can repeat this treatment every day of my life now — simply by wearing WONDERWEAR." A deluge of calls and letters echoed this enthusiasm — and serious production was begun.

WONDERWEAR is now available to the public. As this article is being written, WONDERWEAR is being made available at department and drug stores all over America. Already many fellow sufferers are enjoying its relief-giving benefits. But remember, WONDERWEAR cannot help everyone. Alas, there are some few people who are constitutionally unable to respond to electro-therapy. If, however, you are one of the thousands who suffer painful aches in joints and muscles — isn't it worth a try? The worst that could happen is that you would own one extra pair of fine underwear. However, the chances are you will find surprising relief from those terrible nerve-jangling pains as long as you are inside WONDERWEAR.

Isn't science grand!

CENTRAL HUDSON

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 28 (AP)—Aircrafts and some oils recouped initial losses but the stock market remained lower on average early this afternoon.

The losses among key stocks still ran from fractions to around a point or so while there were wider moves among selected issues.

In early trading the market was resuming the sharp downward trend of yesterday when the market took its worst setback since Feb. 11. Aircrafts, adversely affected by disarmament negotiations and budget cuts, were still lower at the start but they recovered smartly. Oils tirmmed some losses.

Trading was fairly active. Coninued talk of restoring some of the defense cuts improved the atmosphere for the aircrafts, brokers said.

While the overall trend was to the downside, a few gainers appeared in steels, motors and rails.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 50 cents to $182.40 with the industrials down $1.00, the rails down 20 cents and the utilities unchanged.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were generally lower in light trading.

Corporate bonds continued lower in quiet trading.

U. S. government bonds were firm in light transactions.

Horses, Riders Are Coming From 4 Counties for Show

Horses and riders from four counties will compete for 40 prizes Sunday at Spring Lake grounds, it was announced today.

Isadore Epstein, treasurer of the Lowlands Ranch Club, sponsoring organization, said entries have been received from Ulster, Orange, Greene and Dutchess horse fanciers.

The show will start at 9:30 a. m. and continue throughout the day, offering a full program of events.

One of the big features is the goat-roping contest, which is bound to furnish plenty of action, Mr. Epstein said.

Officials will be Don Sheldon of Hyde Park, judge, and Tony Tancred, Lodi, N. J., ring steward.

All of the 40 prizes for winning contestants have been donated by local businessmen, it was announced.

"We expect the largest crowd ever," Mr. Epstein said, "which means generous donations from the proceeds can be given to the cerebral palsy and cancer funds."

STEPS TOWARD HOPE—Six-year-old Donna Deyfong, of Grand Rapids, Mich., who was born without legs, shows how well she can walk with artificial limbs in a demonstration before the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare in Washington. Looking on, in foreground, are Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) and Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.). Donna's artificial limbs, though attached by no cumbersome harness, need nothing more than suction to stay on.

Ex-Convict Admits Killing Woman, 58

Huntington, W. Va., May 28—A 40-year-old paroled convict admitted today he beat to death the wife of a prominent Huntington contractor.

The nude body of Mrs. Ruby H. Miller, 58, was found yesterday in a blood-splattered bedroom of her fashionable southside home. a blood-stained hammer lay nearby.

Detective Chief Herman Frazier said Elmer David Bruner made a statement admitting killing the woman but hadn't signed it yet. Frazier said the statement came after four hours of questioning Bruner who was also sought in connection with an armed robbery.

Frazier said Bruner had keys to a car stolen from the Miller home in his possession. He was arrested at his home and charged with murder a few hours after the body was found.

Unaware of Danger

Washington, May 28 (AP)—An official of the National Bureau of Standards expressed dismay today that youngsters entering science contests apparently are making wide use of explosive and poisonous chemicals, unaware of their danger. John A. Bennett, chief of mechanical metallurgy at the bureau, wrote in Science Teacher Magazine that he had recently served as a judge in one such contest. "I was disturbed to note," he said, "that several of the students were conducting experiments that might have caused serious injury, yet apparently were unaware of the dangers involved."

Casey, Heart Victim Is Slightly Improved

Port Chester, N. Y., May 28 (AP)—Eugene Casey was reported slightly improved today but still on the critical list at United Hospital here where he is under treatment for a heart attack suffered after his 14-year-old son killed his mother and sister.

His special nurse said he had " a very good night."

Casey, 48-year-old public relations man and former reporter for the Boston Globe, is under an oxygen tent. Visitors are barred. He has been in critical condition since the slaying last Wednesday night at the family's home in nearby Rye, N. Y.

Casey's wife, Dorothy, 48, and daughter, Sheila, 18, were buried yesterday after services at the Rye Presbyterian Church.

Andrew Casey, the slayer, is undergoing psychiatric examination at Grasslands Hospital, East View, N. Y. Because of his age, he is charged only with juvenile delinquency.

Andrew, chided for not doing his school homework, went berserk and killed his mother and sister with a .22 caliber rifle.

There are two other children in the family, Shaun, 19, and Michael, 13.

Steady Customer

Dayton, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. James T. Parker is official hostess at Miami Valley Hospital. It's getting so she greets her son more often than any other patient. David, 10, her son, is the victim of a rare disease called osteo genesis imprefecto. It's more commonly called "brittle bones." Ever since the boy was four days old, he has been in and out of casts and tractions as the result of 20 fractions.

Parole Records Of Luciano Aide Are Subpoenaed

New York, May 28 (AP)—The legislature's "watchdog" committee has subpoenaed the parole records of Thomas (Tommy the Bull) Pennochio, a one-time henchman of deported vice lord Charles (Lucky) Luciano.

The committee chairman, Assemblyman William F. Horan, said Pennochio fraudulently obtained a driver's license from the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Horan, a Tuckahoe Republican, said that in 1955 Pennochio gave his name as "Tom Penny" to the bureau and denied that he had ever been convicted.

To Meet Friday

Horan said he would call a subcommittee of the "watchdog" committee to meet Friday to review the Pennochio case.

One of the purposes, Horan said, will be to look into published statements that Pennochio was freed last June after being picked up as a parole violator.

Pennochio's parole records were subpoenaed after the New York Journal-American yesterday printed a story about the alleged license falsification.

The Journal-American said Horan, after reading the story in an early edition, subpoenaed Pennochio's records from the state parole board and the motor vehicles bureau.

'Troubled Souls' Confront Graham

New York, May 28 (AP) — "Troubled souls" of fast-paced New York city — night club dancers, stage actors, and desk-chained career men—are seeking out Billy Graham these days to bare their tales of frustration.

"They're sick inside," Graham said.

They catch him at many times, at many places, and they grab his arm, and start pouring out their stories. He's found them waiting outside his hotel room, or they snag him in a lobby or corridor.

Each is a case history in human disillusionment, and they form a poignant sidelight to Graham's New York crusade, where thousands are listening to his advice nightly—16,500 of them last night at Madison Square Garden.

All Confidential

Graham insists their names be kept confidential, but will describe their plights in a general way. Here are a few:

1. A bartender was held up, tied and threatened with death if he moved. While he lay there, frightened, a noon radio program told of the "Morning Bible Hour" Graham is conducing in a Times Square auditorium. The bartender showed up there next morning and "accepted Christ as his Savior."

2. A leading male actor telephoned Graham, said he felt as if his success was leading nowhere, and wanted help. Graham agreed to have dinner with him. They talked, Graham prayed with him. Graham said he believed the actor is moving toward a "newer, fuller life" with God.

3. A calypso dancer, in the middle of the night, called the Graham offices, and said she was going to murder her husband. She was persuaded to change her plans, and ended up promising to go to Graham's meeting next night.

Mechanic Despondent

4. When Graham got back to his New Yorker Hotel room one night, a man sat outside the door. He was a mechanic. "I want to find God," he said. He was out of a job, despondent. Graham took him inside, told him that trouble often leads a man to seek God. They got on their knees, prayed together. Next day, Graham made some calls, got the man a job, too.

Clergy, Doctors Discuss Telling Patient of Cancer

Buffalo, N. Y., May 28 (AP)—Should a patient doomed to die of cancer be told the truth?

This searching question was the subject of discussion yesterday between 150 clergymen from western New York and physicians gathered at the Roswell Park Memorial Institute here.

The conference, the first of its kind, was called to aid doctors and clergymen to find ways of bringing comfort to cancer patients and their families.

Dr. George E. Moore, director of the institute declared "patients should know if they have incurable cancer."

But he added that patients should not be told that nothing more could be done for them. Instead, he said they should be told that other treatments would be tried.

Dr. James F. Holland, of the institute's department of medicine said the word "cancer" should be avoided in discussing things with the patient.

"Cancer is a much-dreaded word," he said. "By telling them they have cancer, the physician destroys their hope."

"It is possible to be relatively truthful about the seriousness of the disease without actually using the word "cancer" he continued.

But a psychiatrist, Dr. S. Mouchly Small of the University of Buffalo, said the answer depended on the individual patient.

"Some patients can be told that they have cancer and should be told. Others do not really want to be told, even though they may ask," Dr. Small said.

The clergyman's principal role with an incurable cancer patient "should be to strengthen his faith in God," the psychiatrist declared.

Woman, Son Killed In Home by Suitor

New York, May 28 (AP) — A 50-year-old Brooklyn woman's suitor crept into her apartment from a fire escape at 2 a. m. today, shot her son to death when he protested and then killed the woman in her bed.

The slayer turned the gun on himself and was taken to a hospital with a critical chest wound.

Police—who could not determine immediately whether the woman was a widow or divorced—said they had been informed that the son objected to her friendship with the slayer. Detectives surmised that the slayer invaded the apartment to have a showdown.

Slain were Mrs. Veronica Parry, of 1319 Newkirk Ave., and her son, John, 30, an employe of the New York Telephone Co.

The killer, Emil Iacubovski, 50, of 906 2nd St., Brooklyn, picked up a telephone in the bedroom, dialed the operator and mumbled: "I've just killed two people. Send the police." He then collapsed beside the bed.

Two Plead Guilty To Evasion of Tax

Albany, N. Y., May 28 (AP) — Edward Kassel of East Syracuse and William J. Powers Jr., a Rome attorney, pleaded guilty to charges of income tax evasion in Federal District Court yesterday.

Kassel pleaded guilty to one count, charging evasion of $7,745 on his 1950 tax return. He had previously pleaded innocent to the charge and to three others alleging evasion of $61,629 in taxes due for 1951 through 1953.

Powers withdrew a previous plea of innocent to two of five counts.

He admitted evading tax payments of $14,268 for 1953 and $4,524 for 1954. He is also charged with evading payments of $34,763 for 1950 through 1952.

Powers' wife, Mrs. Esther B. Powers, is co-defendant in the action.

Judge James T. Foley deferred sentencing to June 17. Kassel was continued in $2,500 bail and Mr. and Mrs. Powers in $1,000 each.

Nork Acquitted Of Defrauding Hospital of $1,700

Baltimore, May 28 (AP) — A criminal court jury deliberated 4½ hours yesterday before acquitting Kurt H. Nork of charges that he defrauded the University of Maryland Hospital of almost $1,700.

Nork, formerly assistant director of the hospital, went to Oneonta, N. Y., in January of last year, where he is director of Fox Memorial Hospital.

The 37-year-old defendant, father of two children, grasped the hands of defense attorney William J. O'Donnell when the verdict of innocent was returned. Later, he clasped the hands of several jurors as the panel filed out of the courtroom.

Nork had been accused of obtaining slightly more than $1,000 under false pretenses from the hospital auxiliary, and of embezzling the hospital out of $671 in commissions paid on the rental of television sets to patients.

Nork contended he merely replaced personal funds used to buy hospital equipment. The trial lasted six days.

Council Is Appointed For New University

Albany, N. Y., May 28 (AP) — Gov. Harriman today announced the appointment of an eight-member local council of the New York State University College on Long Island.

The college, to be located on a 350-acre site near Stony Brook, Suffolk county, will open in September in temporary quarters.

The land for the permanent quarters was given the state by Ward Melville of Stony Brook, president of the Melville Shoe Corp., who was among those appointed to the local council. His term will run to June 30, 1958.

Harriman said the college would prepare future teachers of science and mathematics for secondary schools and community colleges and provide "general college facilities for the soaring college-age population of Long Island."

SWEETY PIE — By Nadine Seltzer

"I kinda like being an old maid!"

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I do not know how many readers have read, The Hudson, by Carl Carmer. Those who loved the Mary Powell and all she stood for will agree with every word he wrote about her, in his poetic fashion.

Carmer writes for instance: "She was a lovely boat, "Her bell had a silver tongue. Her whistle was a golden sound."

He continues: "Absalom Anderson planned her in 1861 and she was built by Michael Allison in Jersey City. From the hour she came off the ways, she was the River Queen. Not even the "Alida," the "Chauncey Vibbard," the "Jenny Lind," or the "Onteora" could be compared with her. She was the fastest on the river and the smoothest. In vain the other captains tried to take her trade away."

For instance some of the tricks the old-time Hudson river captains would try would be, a favorite of Commodore Hancox, the James B. Schuyler's skipper. He had a good band aboard and whenever a rival drew alongside, he marched the band to the deck nearest her and ordered them to play very loud. As the passengers on the other steamer heard the entrancing music they rushed towards it, weighing down one side of their vessel so much that the paddle wheel on the other side was lifted completely out of the water and spun aimlessly. Then with a loud laugh, Commodore Hancox would forge ahead his steamer and stay ahead until his opponent's passengers had redistributed themselves, with no end of confusion.

Mr. Carmer further relates: "But not all the tricks the shrewdest captains played, not all the speed the fastest boats mustered, could ever make a difference to the Mary Powell. She had clean lines, 300 feet of them in long symmetry. The rococo dreams of the day were not for her. The other boats with their drippings of cheap ornaments were fancy girls besides the Queen of the Hudson.

The story of the Powell continues in Carmer's book: Absalom Anderson sold her once, and her new masters decked her out in lavish wooden laces. His proud heart broke until he got her back and stripped her clean again for speed. He knew that the less a steamboat carried the better she looked, the faster she went. Some say he mixed whale's grease into her paint to give her easy sliding through the water."

He further goes on to say: "Absalom Anderson kept the Mary Powell so clean that the Dutch housewives of Hurley could find no dust on her. He never ran her on Sunday and he never sold liquor aboard her. He ran a family boat and everyone could feel safe on her, even the young, unchaperoned females were entrusted to his strict charge.

"The Mary Powell never had a major accident. She never lost a passenger. She was a honeymoon boat, she was a children's boat. She carried young boys to West Point and returned them officers in the U. S. Army . . . Once Anderson had given the boys in the engine room the jingle, she could be off like a race horse. She could slip into top speed while other boats were casting off." Carmer goes on to say much more. I am sure Fulton would have had great pleasure in knowing the Anderson captains, son and father and being on the Mary Powell for just one trip, but of course life is not long enough for such experiences.

Bridge Anniversary

San Francisco, May 28 (AP)—San Francisco yesterday observed the 20th anniversary of one of its most important assets—the Golden Gate Bridge. Stretching 4,200 feet from tower to tower, the world's longest and highest suspension bridge, has been crossed by more than 165 million vehicles since May 27, 1937. The Golden Gate—known throughout the world—is remembered particularly by hundreds of thousands of servicemen who passed under it while returning home from Pacific battle areas in World War II and the Korean conflict.

Nearly three-fourths of Americans over 65 either have no income or less than $1,000 annual income, says a 20th Century Fund report.

For three years immediately after the Revolutionary War, Pittsburgh, N. H., was a republic. The town's residents named their community the "Republic of Indian Stream" and set up their own government.

The reason? It seems both the United States and Canada claimed the territory.

So for three years the settlers governed themselves under their own constitution, courts, assembly, and council.

Finally, in 1842, a treaty settled the dispute. The erstwhile independent republic became part of New Hampshire.

During a slight illness five-year-old Teddy, usually so amiable flatly and obstinately refused his medicine. After a somewhat prolonged and ineffectual argument with him, his mother at last set the glass of medicine down, leaned her head on her hands, and pretended she was crying. A moment passed, and the tenderhearted Teddy, unable longer to bear the sight of his mother's stricken attitude, inquired,

Teddy—What's the matter, mother, dear?

Mother removing her hands from her eyes, she replied,

Mother—I'm grieved that my son won't take his castor oil for me.

Whereupon Teddy sat up in bed and offered consolingly:

Teddy—Oh, I wouldn't feel bad if I were you, mother dear. Father will be home soon and he'll make me take it.

During colonial times it was customary for ladies of the Cuban aristocracy to smoke cigars with the same freedom that modern women accord the cigarette. But because they feared their fingers might be stained by the long, slim cigaros it became a fad to wrap a narrow "holding strip" of paper around them. The strip was gilt or silver, or chosen to match the smokers' gown. And that is the origin of the intricately engraved bands bound around most cigars today.

During the quail season, an old man was hunting with an ancient pointer. Twice the dog pointed. Each time the hunter fired into the empty air.

Asked why, the old man explained. "I knew there warn't no birds in the grass. Old Jim's nose ain't what it used to be. But him and me have seen some wonderful days together. He's still trying hard and it'd be mighty little of me to call him a liar."

Legal Looting

Little Rock, Ark (AP) — The Little Rock police not only watched the bank robbery, they grinned and offered help. DeWitt Clark of Little Rock pulled the job armed only with a safety pin. He declined a policeman's offer of a knife. After 10 minutes of jiggling, Clark completed the job, removing $10.50 in dimes and quarters from his glass piggy bank to put up bond on a charge of speeding.

Kingston Mason

and is an exempt volunteer fireman. For the past 16-years he has been a foreman in the Hercules Powder Company, Port Ewen.

Reappointed to Grand Lodge committees in this district was Attorney Roger H. Loughran of Kingston, committee on endowments.

Many Responsibilities

The district deputy grand master is the top official of his district. During his term of office (one year), he visits each lodge under his jurisdiction and acts at all times as consultant on fraternal affairs. He is the personal representative of the grand master in the latter's absence. Among his many responsibilities is the district leadership in support of Masonic charities which includes the newly constructed Masonic Research Center for the study of gerontology at the Masonic Home in Utica, New York, and the Masonic benevolence program.

The district deputy will also assist this year in the promotion of the Masonic blood bank. The Masons of the State of New York donated more than five thousand pints of blood to the American Red Cross in 1956.

Aid 5 Medical Schools

During the past nine years the Masons of the state have raised more than one and a half million dollars for rheumatic fever research. This sum was distributed, in the form of grants, to five medical schools and to Irvington House, Irvington-on-Hudson for the care of children with rheumatic fever. 750,000 dollars have been raised for the construction of the Masonic Research Center along with additional funds to cover its maintenance during the coming year. The director of research, Dr. John Murray Steele, professor of medicine at New York University College of Medicine, considered one of the country's outstanding research specialists, along with a highly skilled staff, will commence work this fall.

The grand master will present the commissions to the district deputies and staff officers on St. John's Day at the Utica ceremonies.

Atomic Device

measurements, flash effects, and fallout.

15 Tests Expected

The entire series, which will continue until Sept. 1 and will include more than 15 shots, is designed "to attain new kowledge important to the defense of the United States and the free world."

The fireball of today's device did not touch the desert floor beneath the disintegrated steel tower. This eliminated the great mass of radioactive dirt which in past tests has been sucked into the air.

As a result, the Nevada Test Organization said that fallout in the area surrounding the test site would be minimized.

Because the amount of dust and dirt taken into the air was held to a minimum, test officials said a minimum of radioactive material would be carried outside the test area by winds. Radioactive dust often is carried around the world by high-altitude winds but outside the test area actual fallout ordinarily is minute.

As the mushroom cloud lost its shape and drifted lazily over the Nevada wastelands, helicopters buzzed over the landscape taking radioactivity readings. On the ground test personnel moved quickly in to check their instruments.

As usual, the AEC gave no indication of the nature of the device being tested.

Court Orders

for certain sanitary standards, adequate water supply, fire protection, etc.

The ordinance provides that any person who violates any provision of the ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than $10 or more than $100, or to imprisonment for a period of not less than one day nor more than six months, or both such fine and imprisonment, and that each hour continuous violation shall constitute a separate and distinct violation.

To Enforce Immediately

Mr. DiDonna said he anticipated immediate enforcement of the provisions of the ordinance.

He also pointed out that because townships have limited and specially defined jurisdiction over house trailers and house trailer camps, that no constitutional town trailer ordinance could be the cure-all for the complaints lodged against house trailers in the town of Ulster.

He explained that only restrictive covenants running with the land or a comprehensive zoning ordinance could hope to secure the results which have been sought by many citizens in the township relative to the control of house trailers.

A Mixer For Every Taste

To Save 10 Million Yearly

Wilderness Route Will Open to Ocean Vessels

Amherstburg, Ont., May 28 (AP) —A geyser of Detroit river water blown high in the air by a submerged dynamite charge will mark another milepost today in the evolution of the Great Lakes from a wilderness route for Indian canoes to the world's busiest inland waterway.

The blast in the Amherstburg channel (3:30 p. m.) will launch a 136-million-dollar project that within five years will open Great Lakes ports to deep-draft world shipping.

To Deepen Both Channels

Shallow spots in the Detroit, St. Clair and St. Mary's rivers, Lake St. Clair and the Straits of Mackinac now provide minimum depths of 21 feet for ships which carry light cargoes on upbound voyages and 25 feet for vessels carrying heavier cargoes downbound. The improvement project will deepen both upbound and downbound channels to 27 to 30 feet and open them to ocean-going vessels using the St. Lawrence seaway.

It is expected to result in savings of almost 10 million dollars a year in shipping costs.

The Amerstburg is an upbound channel.

Big Celebration

Secretary of the Army Brucker, whose corps of engineers designed and is to supervise the work, was the scheduled principal speaker at the day-long celebration.

Paul J. J. Maring, minister of National Health & Welfare, was to represent Canada. Other important figures among the 1,500 persons invited to the opening celebration included J. H. van Roijen, Netherlands ambassador to the United State and Maj. Gen. Emerson C. Itschner, chief of engineers of the United States army.

Handle From Old Fort

Amherstburg is on the Canadian side of the lower Detroit river near the mouth of Lake Erie about 30 miles south of Detroit. Its location marks the site of Fort Lenault, built in 1778 by the British. The handle of the detonator that sets off today's blast was carved from a block sawed from one of the palisade posts of the original fort.

The overall deepening job on channels between Lakes Erie and Huron, Huron and Michigan and Huron and Superior, will cover about 130 miles of connecting waterways generally from 300 to 1,200 feet wide. It involves the removal of some 44 million cubic yards of earth and rock. Cost of deepening the Amherstburg channel alone amounts to some 23 million dollars.

Work on the channel has been awarded to marine operators of Minneapolis and Dredge & Dock Co. of Chicago.

The 136 million dollar total expenditure on the overall project exceeds total expenditures for piecemeal channel improvements over the past century.

Malone Jaycee Head Faces Money Charge

Malone, N. Y., May 28 (AP)—Donald J. Bessette, 27, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce here has been charged with embezzling more than $1,600 from the Franklin County Motor Vehicle Bureau.

Bessette, a clerk in the bureau, was arrested yesterday following an investigation by Dist. Atty. Henry A. Fisher and stat police.

He pleaded innocent to a charge of first degree grand larceny at his arraignment last night and was released on $5,000 bail to await grand jury action.

Fischer said the investigation was launched as a result of a letter from the Motor Vehicle Bureau in Albany to County Clerk George B. Bradish.

Canadian Admits Slaying Dance Teacher

Redwood City, Calif., May 28 (AP) — An impassive, balding Canadian who says he "felt no emotion at all" was held today as charges were prepared in the claw hammer slaying of a pretty dancing instructor, 19 years his junior.

Clare Van Horne, 46, of London, Ontario, walked into a San Francisco police station yesterday with blood on his hands and coat and admitted he had bludgeoned Mrs. Nancy McLennan, 27, as she slept at the home of her mother in nearby Menlo Park.

The slightly-built Canadian contended "she was my girl friend up to four years ago in Canada but her mother objected and I got burned over it. We used to go together but then she came out here...I sent letters and she didn't answer." He also said she "wouldn't have anything to do with me" because of "some spiritualist church she was going to."

Air Instructor Faces Court-Martial

San Antonio, Tex., May 28 (AP) —A special court-martial board was ordered to convene at Lackland Air Force Base today to try a basic training instructor on charges of assaulting trainees.

Airman 3.C. William E. P. Roberts Jr., 22, of Key West, Fla., is accused of tossing one basic trainee out of his bunk during an inspection and of kicking another in the face. Basic airman Robert Dinsenbacker of Brooklyn, N. Y., was the alleged victim of the bunk-tossing incident last August.

Dinsenbacker later was hospitalized and died. The San Antonio Express said the cause of his death was listed at the time as heat exhaustion complicated by a kidney ailment.

Roberts, a member of the 3726th training squadron, was released yesterday from the base hospital where he had been held for psychiatric observation.

ATTEND ANNUAL RETREAT—Nine area Catholic men attended the annual retreat of the Kingston Area Group held at Glenmont, near Albany last weekend. This yearly activity, universally recommended by the Catholic Church is designed "to give those participating an opportunity to reflect on the purpose of living, to engage in soul-searching introspection and to renew their resolutions to live their lives according to God's Commandments." Seated with the Rev. Father Joseph McCarthy, SJ, are (left) Benedict Todaro and Harold O'Connor (right); second row, (l-r) Francis Dolan, Dr. Vincent Amatrano, Dr. Anthony Mauceri, and Ralph Carpino; standing, Thomas J. O'Reilly and Donald MacIsaac. (O'Keefe photo).

Hudson Man Hurt In Auto Mishap

Anthony Winig Jr., of Hudson, who suffered minor hurts in a three-car collision on Route 56 half a mile west of Ghent early Monday night, was treated at Columbia County Memorial Hospital and released.

Rhinebeck state police reported that Winig suffered abrasions of the cheek and loosening of teeth.

Involved in the collision were a 1954 sedan operated by Ruth Heins of Valatie, a 1955 sedan operated by William Semel of Maplewood, N. J., and a 1956 sedan operated by Winig.

The Heins car stopped to make a left turn, troopers reported. The Semel car then stopped suddenly and the Winig vehicle struck it in the rear, pushing it into the Heins car, according to state police.

Time of te mishap was listed as 7:30 p. m. Trooper J. H. Parmeter investigated.

Earlier Closing Hour

Andy's Furniture store, 86 Broadway, will close at 6 p. m. Wednesday due to the Memorial Day holiday Thursday.

WE PAUSE

On Memorial Day the natural thought
Is the priceless cost of men who fought
To make us free and keep us free
From want and sin and tyranny
And so, in grateful memory
We pause to thank our God above
For men of stalwart built and thought.

Ulster County Farm Tour Is Arranged for Business Group

Plans for an Ulster County Farm Tour on June 20 were announced today by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce.

The tour is being sponsored by the Chamber's Agricultural Committee, of which Harrison Cornish is the chairman, in cooperation with the Ulster County Extension Service, Agricultural Department.

The tour will leave Kingston by bus at 9:30 a. m., will include visits to four or five farms, a chicken barbecue lunch at New Hurley near Wallkill and return about 5 o'clock. Each bus will be manned by a guide who will describe places being passed, between stops, and tell other interesting facts about Ulster county farming. More details will be announced.

The tour is being promoted to acquaint area businessmen and industrialists with the agriculture of the county and stimulate still better rural-urban relations.

Tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce office. A nominal charge will be made to cover transportation and the barbecue lunch. Everyone interested is cordially invited and additional information may be obtained at the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Cadillac

Friendly Welcome For a Total Stranger!

He's a "stranger in these parts"—just passing through on his way to some distant destination.

But you wouldn't know it to look at the wonderful welcome he receives as he brings his day's travels to an end.

For high on the hood of his motor car rides the beautiful crest of Cadillac—and the truth of the matter is that hospitality just seems to follow a new Cadillac wherever it goes.

No man, you see, is ever without standing when he is in command of the "car of cars".

For it is a recognized fact that Cadillac owners—representing though they do such varying fields of endeavor and such widely separated parts of our world—also have a great deal in common.

Invariably they are people of marked personal achievement—who have won for themselves a considerable measure of respect and recognition in their chosen work.

In brief, the driver's seat of the Cadillac car is the traditional dwelling place of the world's leading citizens. And people everywhere have found it safe to assume that whomsoever they behold at the wheel is a worthy member of this distinguished company.

Of course, this is but one of the satisfactions of Cadillac ownership . . . in addition to inspiring beauty, luxurious Fleetwood coachcraft, superlative performance and extraordinary value.

Have you as yet taken the wheel of a new 1957 Cadillac? If not, then you should visit your Cadillac dealer and spend an hour on the highway before another day goes by.

He'll be waiting for you with a "friendly welcome" of his own!

The annual library fair in New Paltz will be held on Stone House Day, Saturday, August 2, it was announced by the committee in charge.

The committee during a discussion on the date concurred that as the library is housed in one of the old stone houses it would be appropriate to hold the fair during the special stone house day.

Feature Pageant

Stone House Day will again feature a pageant this year which will have a French church background. Pierre Daille, one of the French Church's noted pastors will be portrayed.

The stone houses and a few homes on the outskirts of New Paltz will be open to the public.

The pageant will be directed by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hart and will start at 2:30 p. m. Kenneth E. Hasbrouck is chairman. A special committee meeting to work on arrangement will be held at the Dutch Church Friday, June 3 at 7:30 p. m.

During the next week Richard Fall will place bronze name plates on the old tombstones in the Old Cemetery on Hugenot street. The plates were purchased through the help of the Town Board.

The inscriptions from the stones were carefully copied by the Town Historian and will now become a permanent record. A few stones had to be replaced.

Consider Economics Of Fur Farming

Prospective investors in the country's latest fur farming business, raising nutrias, were cautioned today by the National Better Business Bureau to investigate the economic aspects of such a venture before investing.

Kenneth B. Wilson, president of the bureau, stated "that although the honest element in the nutria raising business undoubtedly is striving to put it on a sound basis through the sale of quality pelts in the raw fur market, some high pressure promoters are interested only in fast profits through the sale of breeding stock at exorbitant prices. In a bulletin just released by the bureau entitled "Raising Nutrias in Captivity," it is emphasized that the primary purpose of raising fur animals in pens is for the fur produced, and the sale of breeding stock is a secondary consideration. Promoting the sale of breeding stock as the sole objective, the bulletin states, is in the nature of a "get-rich-quick" scheme.

Some promoters have charged as much as $1,000 or more for a pair of nutrias, falsely claiming that the pelts raised from these furry rodents command as much as $75 each, and that the demand for nutria fur is unlimited. According to the National Better Business Bureau, pen-raised nutria pelts are in competition with pelts imported from South America, and with an abundant and rapidly increasing supply of wild nutria from the Gulf Coast marshes of the United States.

Plane Will Become Angel of Mercy Within 50 Years

Detroit, May 28 (AP)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker says that within the next 50 years "the airplane will truly become the angel of Peace He intended it to be."

Rickenbacker, chairman of the board of Eastern Airlines, outlined his predictions for the next half century in the air in a speech yesterday before the Economic Club of Detroit.

"With aviation's development in the hands of men of good will we have, for the first time in the long history, of man, the one instrument which can forever eliminate the barriers of time and distance, of ignorance and misunderstanding which, since time began, have set men apart from, and against each other," he said.

"In terms of human relationships, these advances in aviation mean that the world will grow progressively smaller.

"Then people of all nationalities will have within their own hands the means of meeting and understanding all people and for eliminating the petty hates and jealousies which breed wars."

Sees Big Advances

Rickenbacker said aviation will advance farther and faster in the next 10 years than it has in the past 25.

He said nuclear-powered guided missiles will reach speeds of 25,000 miles an hour and will locate their targets with acoustical devices as yet undeveloped.

"This I admit, is an ugly picture," Rickenbacker said, "but as man develops his ability to engineer those deadly instruments, the need for them will diminish proportionately. In this fact lies mankind's greatest hope since the beginning of time."

Printer Becomes Author After His Retirement

BY BEULAH STOWE

Some men can go fishing every day after they retire from a daily job, and still bound out of bed the next morning eager for more fishing.

Not so in the case of Karl V. Eiker, who retired in 1950 from his job as manager of a printing plant in Washington, D. C.

He wrote a book, instead. It is "Star of Macedon," published this spring, a story of ancient Macedon and its rise to world supremacy.

Eiker was born in 1900, and retired when he was 50. He soon found that fishing and reading could not take the place of an active life in business, and he began to write as a hobby.

Eiker began his working career at 13 as a paper boy, for $8.50 a month. From this he progressed to a summer job behind a drugstore soda fountain, working from 8:30 a. m. to 11 p. m. seven days a week—for $5 a week.

He finished high school, worked as a shipping clerk for a typewriter company, and taught himself typing and shorthand. When he was 17 he landed his first "white-collar job," as stenographer in Herbert Hoover's Food Administration. Later he found a career in the printing business, as bookkeeper, salesman and finally as manager of a printing plant.

He regards writing as "fun," rather than work, and since completing "Star of Macedon" he has written a second novel and already has a third under way.

Not every man and woman who retires has the talent to write professionally, but many of them have more talent than they ever put to the test.

"Family writing," just for the record, and not for sale to a publisher, is possible for anyone. It can be a great source of personal satisfaction to the writer, and a source of history for the next generation.

Q—"I am a widow with a small pension and a home of my own. I am lonely, and I'd like to meet a man of my age who is lonely, too. I can take care of myself, but I can't support a husband, too."—Mrs. H. C. K.

A—If you meet a man who wants you to support him, keep on looking. Look for a man who will pool his resources with yours. But do look. Get out of the house. Go to meetings and clubs, civic affairs, and church. Almost as many old people are dying of loneliness as are dying of heart ailments. And if they don't die from loneliness, they learn to live with loneliness. But they never learn to like it.

Women Are Urged To Be Active in Field of Politics

In a major speech at Saturday's fourth annual Day of Political Education sponsored by the Ulster County Democratic Women, and Ulster County Democratic Committee, it was stressed that politics are not for men only.

More than 150 men and women were present at Broglio's in West Park when Mrs. Eleanor Clark French declared: "I have little patience with those women who, with a shrug of disgust, toss off mention of politics as something of no concern to women, something for 'men only.'"

Political Life of Nation

The acting vice chairman of the Democratic State Committee said "We cannot live without politics and politics cannot enable us to live well unless we are assured that those in power have at heart the greatest good for the greatest number."

She declared that Governor Harriman and his dedicated and able staff have proved this to be their credo.

Mrs. French said the governor advocates debating of pros and cons in open forum, "not behind closed doors."

Hits Voter Apathy

Twenty-seven per cent of the eligible voters in New York state didn't even bother to go to the polls last November," she emphasized. "I can see no excuse for this shamful apathy."

It was her opinion that improvements in the permanent personal resigtration law will help.

Mrs. French said the Harriman administration advanced legislation along the lines of education, and led in the fight for counties to have home rule, being able to choose their own forms of government.

Up to People

The home rule measure has passed both houses of the legislature, she said. "You will have the opportunity to vote on it this November."

Mrs. French said Republicans have been responsible for failing to plug loopholes in the compulsory insurance law to provide protection against out-of-state and hit-and-run drivers. She said the majority of the Senate leaders refused even to debate the issue.

She attacked the Legislature's action in defeating the Governor's proposal to create a permanent State Commission on the Aging, pointing up that well-considered plans are "urgently needed" because of the rapidly increasing number of citizens 65 years and older.

Advises Support of Bills

Mrs. French urged Ulster county Democrats to support passage of three bills by the legislature for which a special session has been called June 10.

The bills deal with:

Workmen's compensation.

Unemployment insurance.

Telephone rates.

Gov. Harriman has brought about more public hearings, to let the public air the views, than in the last 15 years, Mrs. French said.

Cites Achievements

In the field of education, Mrs. French said, the Harriman administration has achieved: :

1) Approval for the second time of a constitutional amendment (to be voted in November) authorizing a $250 million bond issue for state university constructon projects;

2) An increase in the number of Regents scholarships awarded by counties on the basis of the number of high school graduates in each county;

3) The appropriation of $875,000 in special aid for school districts with fewer than eight teachers.

Mrs. French said that for the betterment of one's community and the United States "women should be political."

Mrs. French criticized Republicans for refusing to adopt the governor's safety measures on highways, including the proposal for more state troopers on traffic duty . . . and a school financing authority to market school bonds enabling communities to go ahead on construction "slowed down due to Republican tight money policy."

Greetings Received

Greetings were read from Governor Harriman in which he noted that Rosendale has the only Democratic woman mayor in the state, Mrs. Catherine O'Leary. He said, "more power to her and all of our Democratic organizations in Ulster county."

Michael H. Prendergast, chairman of the New York State Democratic Committee sent "my warmest greetings to the Ulster county Democrats."

AT POLITICAL EDUCATION DAY—Principals at the fourth annual Day of Political Education sponsored by Ulster County Democratic Women and the Ulster County Democratic Committee were (seated l-r) Mrs. Daniel McNamee, 1956 upstate campaign coordinator, Women's Division, Democratic State Committee; Mrs. Eleanor French, acting vice chairman, Democratic State Committee, guest speaker; Mrs. Marie Green, who presided at luncheon; Mrs. Mae Gurevich, associate chairman, Women's Division, State Committee; Mrs. Harriet Allen Kerr, state committeewoman; standing, U. Parker Decker, state committeeman; the Rev. Herald C. Swezy, Church of the Ascension, West Park, who gave the invocation; Michael Leskin, Sixth District (Palenville) Democratic Club, Town of Catskill; Attorney William A. Kelly, chairman, Ulster County Democratic Committee and Supervisor John Gaffney, Town of Lloyd. (Tom Reynolds photo).

Turnabout

Des Moines (AP)—Students at Roosevelt High School here are getting used to the fact that Archie Johnson teaches Spanish, while the English teacher is Senor Manuel Briseno.

Tongue Slips

Victoria (AP) — Slips of the tongue occasionally provoke laughter in the B. C. Legislature. During the last session Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan once addressed Mr. Speaker Thomas Irwin as "Mr. Swooker." Provincial Secretary Wesley Black started one speech with "Mr. Sweaker."

Lady Farmers

Huntington, W: Va. (AP) — Women tobacco farmers? Right. And good ones, too. On one day during the burley auctions here last season, crops marketed by three women brought the highest average price. The high quality of their tobacco helped boost the price per hundred pounds by $1.07 over that of the previous day.

Job Wide Open

Santa Fe, N. M. (AP)—A dream job is open for an outdoorsman who can't stand people or porcupines. The State Employment Service has announced an opening for a man to live alone in the high mountain country of northern New Mexico to track down and destroy pesky porcupines in the pine forests. The job pays $3,415 annually.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

Author of "Children Are People" and "Etiquette," etc.

CHEAP BEHAVIOR

The first letter in today's mail explains: "I am the mother of two teen-aged daughters and I don't mind telling you that it is no easy task bringing them up to behave properly when so many of their friends do all sorts of seemingly reckless things. For example, when I tell them that nice girls don't park and pet in dark cars, I am told that I am old-fashioned and that this behavior is generally accepted by the world of today. I am sure a word from you on the cheapness of this behavior will do more than anything I can say to them."

I agree with you 100 per cent. The really nicest, most highly thought of girls do not park in dark cars. Such behavior is very cheapening.

Serving Salad

Dear Mrs. Post: When a tossed green salad is served at dinner in a large wooden bowl and is passed around the table for each guest to help him (or her) self, is this put on the dinner place, or should a separate plate be provided on which to put salad? If so where is it placed?

Answer: If the salad is to take the place of vegetables and is intended to be eaten with the meat, then no extra plate is necessary. Otherwise a salad plate should be provided and it is placed at the left of the dinner plate. Or else the salad should be served as a separate course after the dinner plate has been removed.

Not Giver's Responsibility

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I bought a wedding present for a friend and as she received a duplicate, I suggested she change mine for something else, which she did. In its place she selected a much more expensive item. I would like to know if I am expected to pay the difference?

Answer: No, you cannot be expected to pay more than the cost of the present you gave her. If the one she selected to replace it is more expensive, she is responsible for the difference.

Many girls ask for directions for filling a hope chest. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-5, "The Bride's Trousseau," includes a list of essential linens. So You Want to Give a Bridal Shower:

A beauty shower is something new in shower ideas for brides-to-be. This girl's friends have given her a vanity hamper (left) filled with beauty and grooming aids. Her portable hair dryer will allow her to get pin curls brushed out fast. Lucite back brush (upper right) does a good job of cleaning up that hard-to-reach spot between the shoulder blades. Squishy bath sponge (center right) works up rich soapy lather for facial. It has strap that fits over the hand. There's a luxury note in plastic pillow filled with sponge-rubber (lower right) that comes in many colors and clings to end of tub by means of suction cups.

Give Bride-Elect Good Grooming Gifts

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

There is one type of party that is always a success — a bridal shower.

To begin with, everyone is happy, excitement runs high and there isn't anything a bride receives which she can't use.

A shower may be given any time after the engagement has been announced. It is usually given by the bride-elect's closest friends. It is not good form, however, for either of the engaged couple's mothers or sisters to give a shower, since, they would be actually asking for gifts for the future bride and bridegroom.

Invitations

Invitations, as with any well planned event, should be mailed well in advance. It is also customary, today, to state the type of shower being given. One homey event is the "Come Into My Kitchen" shower. Gifts for this type of party could include egg beater, wooden spoons, rolling pin, colander, grater, spatula, food chopper, kitchen scissors, tea kettle, canisters, cutlery set, pressure cooker, coffee maker, just to name a few.

A "Good Night" shower would include all linens, blankets, bedroom ensembles.

A party given just for the bride's personal self would be a "Femme Fatale" shower. This would include perfume, cosmetics, lingerie and costume jewelry, everything to make the bride irresistible.

Other more popular plans include a miscellaneous, greenback, silver, glassware and utility shower.

Showers are becoming bigger and bigger, requiring more planning than ever. In years gone by, they were given for a bride by her friends, who had little embroidered doilies, towels and pillow cases to help fill her hope chest. But in the crush of today's living, the hope chest and embroidery hoop are fast disappearing.

More realistic friends are concentrating on the bride-elect's future life and shower her with practical gifts ranging from electric brooms to television sets.

A shower today, can be a very profitable business for the young couple.

Selecting Home Furnishings Important; Colors Help Achieve Happy Atmosphere

By EVERICE E. PARSONS
Extension Service Association

"Love is sweeping the country" or so it seems this time of year with wedding bells pealing for June brides in happy profusion. The dreams and hopes of millions of young couples all over are combining for fulfillment.

Never before in history have young couples had such choices available to them in selecting home furnishings. A bride in the 30's could only look longingly at precious linens, silver and fine china. The war brides of the 40's may have had the buying power to purchase the traditional finery, but precious metals were building ships; linens from Europe were not being exported; textile fabrics that might have been toweling, upholstry and draperies were uniforming our armed forces. Today's bride views a perplexing but wonderful array of products made available by a peacetime economy and a virtually free world trade. Better still, she and her friends who will be supplying her with many of her most hoped for treasures, have the increased incomes to purchase these wants.

For most young couples, the selection of furnishings for their apartment or house, represents the first opportunity to express their own taste and imagination. Their choices will initiate the spending of large sums of money in relation to their incomes. These purchases of home furnishings should serve as an investment and therefore be chosen as carefully as a financier weighing his next purchase of stocks.

Two people, joined together in marriage, assumedly have a world of common values in addition to their love. However, until they make their first decisions together in selecting the necessary appointments for their new home, they never realize how different their tastes in color, style and feeling may be. Moreover they may have varying ideas on how their home is to be used. Surroundings that will please both husband and wife are important and should be the first consideration before setting out to decorate and furnish a home.

Color likes and dislikes should be noted. Mrs. Newlywed may have a real passion for green and Mr. Newlywed abhors it! A color mutually accepted by both should be dominant and the green might appear in a patterned or striped fabric and be accented again in a pillow or other accessory.

The old problem of a choice between modern or traditional or period furnishings is no longer as prominent as it was. In today's home furnishings we talk of a modern or contemporary "feeling." This "feeling" may well permeate any period of furnishings. The stark, bleak, bleached "Modern" that appeared during the last war and just after has been replaced by the more refined and graceful furniture of today. Contemporary furnishings have borrowed the best of the "Modern" period, that is, the easy to care for surfaces and the dedication to comfort. Todays' furniture, however, is marked with the richness of natural colored woods, a softening of harsh geometric lines, and a few embellishments for pure beauty in the form of interesting blends of different woods or materials for texture interest. Simplicity with richness, functionality with beauty, spaciousness without starkness, and informality with traditional good taste define today's well furnished rooms.

ANY COUPLE SETTING OUT to furnish an apartment or house will save time, money, and possibly some major disagreements by seeking professional help with their plans. There are many good magazines that specialize in home planning and decorating that are wonderful sources for ideas. Department and furnishing stores make available the services of interior decorators or counsellors who are experienced in planning rooms to meet particular needs and budgets.

AN OFTEN UN-TAPPED SOURCE for professional guidance is the service made available by the Home Demonstration Department of the County Extension Service. Most counties throughout New York state employ home economists full time to meet the needs of homemakers in all phases of homemaking. The smart young bride will go to the County Extension Office to seek help in finding answers to her myriad new homemaking tasks. In New York State, Cornell University is the land grant college that is the seat of the Extension Service. A large staff of specialists assembles the latest research findings and compiles bulletins on every subject from caning chairs and making draperies to home freezing and garden pest control.

Information on every phase of homemaking, family life, food preparation and marketing, clothing, household management, home furnishings, floriculture, citizenship, health and safety is available without cost in the form of bulletins and direct help from the county agent. Also homemakers of all ages have formed Home Demonstration units throughout the county to take advantage of such services and to pool the results of their experiences. They learn to do while doing and under the guidance of trained leaders keep constantly prepared to meet the many demands made on today's homemaker.

Proportion Is Important to keep in mind when planning a room. Objects that appear together should be in size relationship to each other. Small objects may be grouped to form a larger relationship when needed. A dainty figurine on a large coffee table or a large ash tray on a spindly end table lose their unique beauty because they are out of scale.

The rules for the use of color are relatively simple and equally applicable wherever color is used—in a room, clothing, flower arrangements, meal planning, table setting, garden plots. All colors can be used together harmoniously providing they are of the right value (lightness or darkness) and intensity (brightness or dullness). It is well to keep in mind that nature offers a wonderful training in color. The big elephant is a dull gray; the small butterfly is vivid yellow. Dark colors and dull collors recede and tend to dwarf the size of objects; light colors and bright colors advance and make objects appear larger. Thus a small room takes on a more spacious appearance when decorated in a light color.

When Combining Colors in a room, three colors chosen from a prized picture to be hung in the room can be used as the basis for the color scheme and will work out effectively if one color, usually in greyed down tones, is dominant, representing 50 per cent of the color in the room, the second color, used in variations, 35 per cent, and the third used only as accent, 15 per cent. Bright colors are stimulating, dull colors restful. Since a living room is a center for family re-creation, the surroundings should not keep one at a high emotional pitch, nor should they have a soporific effect.

Colors can be selected to achieve a happy restful room.

More Working Wives In Today's Economy

Grandma would throw her hands up in horror if her young daughter advised her that after marriage she intended to keep her job. In grandma's day, the woman stayed close to the kitchen.

But because of today's changing economy, statistics show that one third of all workers now are female. An entirely new pattern of life has emerged for the American girl.

One would ask, "Why." Naturally, the obvious answer is that the high cost of living keeps brides working even when families are on the way.

In speaking with scores of young women on the job, it was found that they all agreed that the best place for a young mother is with her children, but a young couple today can barely make ends meet with just one salary.

Double Standard

American is fast becoming a double standard country. Few of the girls interviewed said their husbands objected to their jobs but a number did admit that a working wife has more "home" problems.

It becomes necessary for a working wife to plan her days in advance. The laundry, housework, quick, easy meals, and if there are children, their well being must be carefully guarded.

Experts advise working wives to re-evaluate their housekeeping standards as means of saving time and energy. Use shortcuts, omit the lace tablecloths, but at the same time don't give up graciousness in home life.

There are many tricks to a trade and learning to be successful at a career, taking care of children, husband and home, is the biggest trick to learn.

With proper planning, it can be done.

Remember, that working rather than being at home is now the "natural" thing to do.

Referring to statistics again, we find that working wives now even outnumber bachelor girls more than two to one. In 1955, 18.2 per cent of mothers with children held jobs.

In 1950, for the first time in United States history, there was not one category in the published census of occupations that did not have at least a few females.

There is, of course, always one good solution for working wives who are harrassed with housework when they get home—get your husband to help!

Giannuzzi Checks Last Frame Rally To Post Victory

By SAM ANZALONE
Freeman Sports Staff

A total collapse in the infield in the last inning almost ruined another superlative pitching performance by Renni Giannuzzi yesterday, but not quite.

The stylish southpaw withstood three straight errors which let in Newburgh Free Academy's lone run to post a four-hit 2-1 DUSO League victory at Dietz Stadium.

The outcome of the game was highly important for both sides. It kept the Maroons breathing in their dash for the flag and knocked their arch enemy out of a tie for first place. KHS is 4-3, two games behind pacesetting Poughkeepsie (5-1) which also won yesterday. NFA's mark is 4-2.

Tough Jam

Giannuzzi, who hurled a no-hitter in his last start against Port Jervis, pitched his way out of a bases-loaded no-out jam to lock up the verdict. All of the trouble was traceable to booboos around second base as the Goldbacks almost succeeded in staging one of those old fashion Frank Merriwell finishes.

The near fatal frame went like this:

Leadoff batter Len Henderson was safe when Jackie Niles booted his ground ball at shortstop. Al Beccaccio hit a perfect double play ball to second sacker Don Krueger who kicked it. Moments later Krueger got a chance to atone for the mistake, but threw away Billy Cotton's tailor-made DP roller trying for a force at third base. When the merry-go-round had stopped, Henderson was home, Beccaccio on third and Cotton on second.

Giannuzzi Shaken

Visibly shaken over the sudden unlucky turn of events, Giannuzzi walked Moran Kaplan on four pitches to put the lead run on first. But here instead of folding, the hard-throwing senior bore down and got the next three men in order as the runners stayed chained to the bags. He fanned opposing hurler Bob Smith, forced Bob Pavolic to fly meekly to left and got Ron Baker on a liner to center to close up shop.

Giannuzzi wasn't the only fellow victimized by miscues. Smith too was let down by his mates, but in the outfield instead of the infield.

After four innings of dueling Giannuzi even, Smith, who is also a southpaw, gave up a single to Frank Sammons to lead off the fifth. The Maroon catcher continued to third on the hit when centerfielder John Pliego let the ball skip through him. Smith, who is just a freshman and a tremendous prospect, then uncorked a wild pitch on his very first delivery to Frank Ambrose and Sammons trotted in with the first marker of the game.

Armstrong Starts It

In the next inning, Hobie Armstrong walked with one down and Joe Beaver lined one of Smith's serves sharply to right. This time it was Kaplan who botched up the hit and let it get by him as speedy Hobie scored and Beaver zoomed to third. Ambrose's smash off Smith's leg got Beaver across and KHS had its final tally.

Giannuzzi struck out nine and walked six. He had runners on against him in every inning but was tough in the pinch evidenced by the 12 men NFA left stranded.

Smith, who also boasts a live fast ball, fanned a half dozen and passed four. He was charged with three wild pitches.

Coach Al Gruner's boys faced Arlington on the Dutchess diamond today in a non-league game. They resume DUSO action Monday at the stadium against Poughkeepsie.

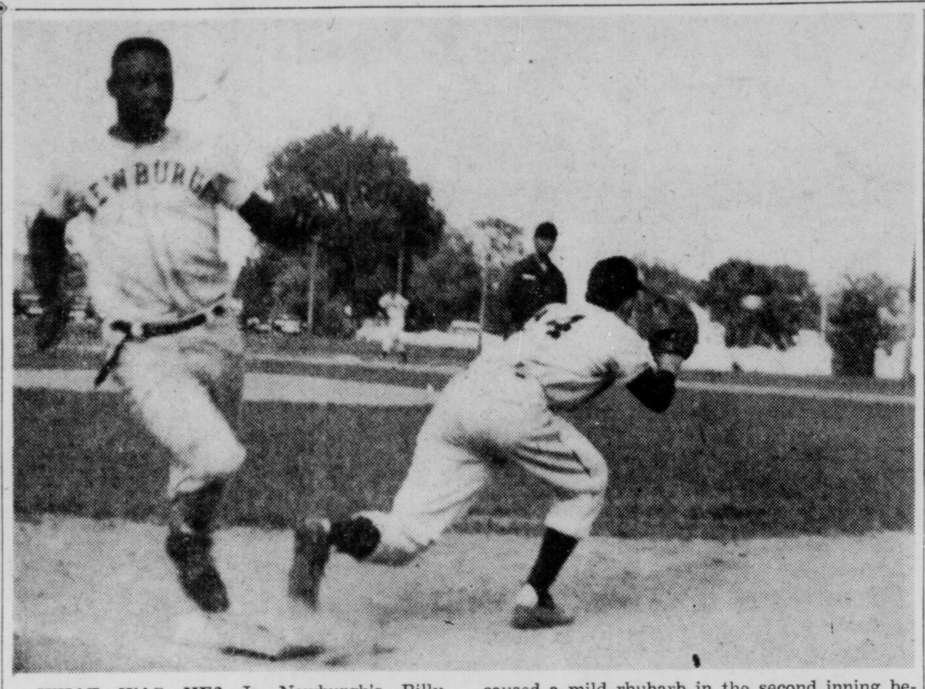
Summer Meeting

Sangi's Summer men's bowling league meets tonight at 7:30 p. m. at the Bowlero on Cedar street. All captains with teams ready to go must attend. Election of officers and selection of a starting date are also on the agenda.

Four of the umpires in the Southern Assn., come from the so-called northern states and one is from Canada.



WHAT WAS HE?—Is Newburgh's Billy Cotton safe or out on this play at first base. First sacker Joe Beaver appears to be waiting for the peg as Cotton hits the bag. The play caused a mild rhubarb in the second inning between NFA Coach George Balcanoff and base umpire Chet Dell (shown in the background). Dell ruled Cotton out. (Freeman photo)

About That Triple Shift

Denial--Denial

Chicago, May 28 (AP)—Directors of the National League, meeting today six weeks earlier than scheduled, were surrounded by a welter of rumors all of which were tagged by official denials.

One report was that a three-way switch of franchises was in prospect, shifting the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles, the New York Giants to San Francisco, and the Cincinnati Redlegs to New York.

Commissioner Ford Frick has put a gag on any public discussions by major league officials regarding franchise transfers. But this didn't prevent strong denials.

"No request has been made by any club to move any franchise anywhere at any time," said Warren Giles, National League president.

General Manager Gabe Paul of Cincinnati added: "I would not dignify such rumors by even commenting on them."

Contracts Signed (?)

It was reported that television and broadcast contracts for the three clubs in their new sites already had been approved.

To this, Paul replied: "If this is true, someone besides Mr. Crosley (Powel Crosley, Jr., president of the Redlegs) and myself must have signed the contracts for the Redlegs. And only we two are authorized to sign such agreements."

Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, said that he knew "absolutely nothing" about such transfer reports.

Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers, said "I'm not going to get involved in any spring time romancing."

Although possible franchise changes are not on the agenda, Giles said that if any club wishes to bring up such a switch it could be considered if all other teams were willing to discuss it.

He added that if any such changes were suggested and approved by the necessary eight clubs, there still would remain the formality of drafting the needed territory, a procedure which league rules permit only during the month of October.

Maroons Blow Up

NFA Jayvees Overcome KHS in Seventh, 7-3

Kingston High Jayvees blew up in the final inning and Newburgh scored all its runs for a 7-4 victory yesterday at the Athletic Field.

Lefthander Ivan Gavin was working on a beautiful four-hit shut-out when his mates fell apart behind him. He finally had to be derricked in favor of Mike Spada who got the last out.

A couple of walks and an error of omission in the infield on a rundown play which would have meant the second out, opened the flood gates in the fatal round. Bob Lare then tripled to clean the bases and get the Goldbacks even. A legitimate boot and a three-run homer by first baseman Joe Fabrizio put the game in deep freeze.

First Inning Uprising

Kingston got all its runs off Hal Peretz in the first. The first four hitters up—Cliff Miller, John Parete, Gary Barnes and Terry Corkery—singled to highlight the spree. Peretz settled down after that and twirled three-hit ball.

Gavin struck out five and walked the same number. Paretz fanned four and passed two.

Coach Ken Brown's club plays Arlington today at Dietz Stadium and then winds up the season at Poughkeepsie Monday.

Approaching Giant Record

Reds Can't Lose for Winning Those Rugged Road Contests

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Winning on the road and hanging on to pocket extra-inning games may not guarantee Cincinnati a pennant—but it doesn't figure to hurt the Redlegs either.

The Redlegs, looking more and more like champs, combined those two knacks to knock off Milwaukee's slipping Braves last night, twice shrugging off blown leads for an explosive, five-run 10th inning that produced an 11-6 victory.

It was the first win of the season for Cincinnati against the Braves—who had beaten the Redlegs seven in a row, counting one at the end of last season—and it stretched Cincy's winning streak on the road to 15 games, just two shy of the major league record hung up by the 1917 New York Giants.

Teh Redlegs haven't lost on the road since April 21.

The extra-inning victory, the fourth of the season for the Redlegs who have won every overtime session so far, kept Cincinnati two games ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who beat Philadelphia 5-1 on Don Drysdale's two-hit pitching. Milwaukee, with seven defeats in 10 games, fell 3½ games behind in third.

The St. Louis Cardinals, with Stan Musial 3-for-5, belted Chicago's Cubs, 6-2, New York and Pittsburgh were idle.

But Cincinnati hustled back to rock reliever Ernie Johnson, with a pinch single by Smoky Burgess scoring the clincher. Pinch-runner Hal Jeffcoat and Milwaukee's Johnny Logan got into a scrap when Jeffcoat slid into the infielder at third base. Jeffcoat and Logan were thrown out, but the Redlegs added three more runs before the Braves could put down the uprising which gave Hersh Freeman the victory in relief.

The Phillies got just two singles off Drysdale. Both in the second inning as Ed Bouchee and Joe Lonnett connected for the run. Duke Snider's two-run homer broke a 1-1 tie and Gino Cimoli's two-run jolt wrapped up Drysdale's fourth victory—and Robin Roberts' sixth defeat.

Musial Raps Homer

Musial's eighth home run, with a man on, capped a four-run Cardinal fifth that broke a 1-all deadlock and helped The Man up his NL-leading bat average to .371. Wally Moon doubled to stretch his hitting streak to 20 games.

The A's, fresh from a three-game sweep of the Tigers, got started against the Sox and Jim Wilson with Lou Skiza's seventh home run, added a pair of unearned markers and then bagged it with a four-run sixth that included a two-run single by Vic Power. It was Wilson's second defeat.

Bill Skowran hit a two-run homer and two-run single for the Yankees at Fenway Park, where he's unloaded five of his six home runs this season. The Yankees had 13 hits—seven of them doubles and three of the two-baggers by Hank Bauer. An eight-run seventh made it a victory. A five-run eighth made it a rout.

A double by Al Kaline, three walks; a squeeze bunt and a two-run single by winning reliever Paul Foytack brought the Tigers four runs in the seventh against loser Early Wynn, making his first relief appearance of the year.

Jim Lemon's home run won the April 21 completion for the Senators, who had led 2-1 when the lights failed last month. Lemon then drove in four runs with a homer and sacrifice in the regularly scheduled game, won by Truman Clevenger, who hadn't managed a decision in 34 games with the Nats over two seasons.

As usual, the Middies were paced to victory by their potent singles trio of Chipo Villegas, Jeff Rosen and Norn Dubin. Each breezed through rivals by identical 6-0, 6-1 scores.

Rosen and Earl Spears teamed for one doubles victory while John Arfman and Bill Benedict grabbed the second doubles to complete the rout.

Ellenville Routs Liberty, 16-6, to Clinch Village DUSO Title

Blue Devils End League Campaign With 5-1 Record

Ellenville Central clinched the village DUSO League baseball championship by whipping Liberty by a whopping 16-6 score yesterday at Ellenville.

The victory climaxed a tremendously successful season for first-year Coach Ron Anderson. His club wound up with a 5-1 league record and an impressive 8-3 overall mark.

Ellenville made sure of the title early by roling up a comfortable early lead and then coasting in. The Blue Devils rushed four runs over in the first inning, and after being blanked in the second, locked it up for good with a big cluster of seven.

Reed Has Easy Time

Jim Reed, who has been the mainstay of Anderson's mound corps all season, had a very easy time recording the triumph. His only bad frame was the fourth when the Redskins broke loose for a quartet of runs.

Deming Payne began for Liberty, but couldn't get through the big third inning. Ellenville put together singles by Reed, Charlie Kushner, Tom Brown and Don Gray and five walks for the markers. Al Kavleski relieved in the middle of the uprising and was touched up pretty good too.

Ben Davis struck the potent blow in the first frame, a base-loaded double which chased in a pair. The other scores were forced across. Payne passed five altogether in the stanza.

Kushner, Davis Share Honors

Kushner and Davis were the big run-producers, each with 3 RBIs. Kushner also shared honors with Liberty's Don Orseck for the most hits. Each collected three.

Payne and Reed each slammed doubles for the only other extra base smashes.

Reed struck out 12 and walked seven. He yielded six hits. Ellenville raked Payne, Kavleski and Jack Stoddard for a dozen safeties.

Liberty wound up in the cellar with a 1-5 mark.

Wimpy's Take 3rd Straight

Subways, Mirons Chezzies Also Win

It was a hitters' day in the City Softball League yesterday, with only six runs separating eight teams in four high scoring duels. Two of the games were decided in extra innings.

Wimpy's Grill got a three-hit pitching performance from Tom Robey to edge Prespect Dairy, 5-4, for their third straight victory.

A two-run rally in the top of the seventh cinched the win for Wimpy's. Jake Smith and Don Martin starred on the defense for the Grills. Martin also was the only player on either side with two hits. Bob Perry for the Dairymen. Joe Amato, who permitted seven hits was the loser.

Rally in Eighth

Chez Emile scored three runs after two out in the eighth inning to edge Hilltop Rest, 9-7, in extra innings. Three errors and four singles built up the Chez rally. Joe Ruzzo, Bill and George Glaser and Vassil hit during the uprising.

Joe Enright, who gave 10 hits, shut off a counter rally by Hilltop after one run in the bottom of the eighth. Hilltop collected 12 hits off Ben Freer, including three singles by Orlando Felipe. Tom Morrissey stroked three singles for Chezzies. Ted Beland tripled for Hilltop.

Subway Grill scored five runs in its last turn at bat but fell short to drop a 11-9 decision to P & Gs in a game featured by six home runs, equally divided between the teams.

Johnny Schatzel, Tony Musto, Champ Holstein had four baggers for Subway. McKelvy, Oalby and Quintano retaliated for Pat and George's. Halpin and Bickel of P & G and Fede of Subways hit three singles apiece.

Game Goes Nine

Mort Gazley's heroics helped Miron Lumber shade Shannon's, 8-7, in a nine-inning thriller. His two-out single in the ninth sent Holstein across with the winning run. Earlier he had thrown out a Shannon runner out at the plate with an accurate throw from deep right field.

Jim Lawson and Ward belted home runs for Shannons and Roy Casella hit one for the Lumberjacks.

Saugerties Routs Catskill, 23-1, For 13th Triumph

The booming bats of Don Whitaker and Billy Zeilman powered Saugerties High to a ridiculously easy 23-1 rout of overmatched Catskill High yesterday on the loser's diamond.

Whitaker, who is perhaps the most feared hitter hereabouts, riddled Catskill pitching for three doubles and a triple while Zeilman crashed a two-run homer and three singles. With that kind of backing, ace right-hander Skip Kugelman coasted to a two-hit triumph which was the Sawyers 13th in 14 outings.

Saugerties blasted Dave Hitchcock and Bill Schlenker for 22 hits altogether. Also sharing honors in the hit parade was Jim Erceg, with three doubles. Chipping in with two each were Eddie Riozzi, Dick Elliott, John Di Pasquale, Paul Wengert and Kugelman. Included in Riozzi and Kugelman's bag were doubles.

Saugerties scored in every inning. Its biggest frame was the fourth when it tallied eight times.

Kugelman struck out 10 and walked just one. Catskill's only run was unearned and was traceable to two errors in the third.

Coach Bill Straub's club resumes UCAL action today at New Paltz. Friday it hosts Onteora in its last home game of the season.

Score to Leave Hospital Today

Cleveland, May 28 (AP) — Pitcher Herb Score, who suffered an eye injury when hit by a line drive, leaves Lakeside Hospital today and will go to the home of an uncle in Hagerstown, Md., for further recuperation.

Score was hit in the right eye by a drive off the bat of Gil McDougald in a night game with the New York Yankees here May 7. He is on the Tribe's disabled list until June 8, but it is expected to be several weeks after that before he is back in uniform.

Wolven, Morris First in Weight Lifting Contest

William Norris and Ronald Wolven of the YMCA weight lifting team scores firsts in the invitation contest Saturday at New Hampton.

Wolven was the outstanding lifter in the 40-man field, taking first place in the light heavyweight class with a total of 690 points on the three lifts: the press, snatch and clean and jerk. The runnerup scored 620 pounds.

Morris was first in the middle heavy class with a total lift of 630 points. The runnerup in this division also scored 620 pounds.

Teams competing included Kingston New Hampton, Otisville and Peeksville.

Pioneers Take Lead

The combined shutout pitching of freshman Carl Cerniglia and veteran Alan Smith lifted Poughkeepsie into sole possession of first place in the DUSO League yesterday as the Pioneers whipped Middletown, 4-0, at the Bridge City.

Poughkeepsie stands 5-1 and needs only to defeat runnerup Newburgh Wednesday to clinch its second straight crown. The vital tilt is set for the Hill City.

Cerniglia pitched four innings of no-hit ball before turning over the chores to Smith. Smith gave up two hits in his short stint.

Poughkeepsie scored a pair of runs in the third and sixth off starter and loser Tom Clarke and reliefer Tom Slover. In the third, singles by Ronnie Levine and Gary Barth and Lee J. Nelson's double did the damage. The other markers came on an error and hits by Deke Johnson and Herb Joosep.

Cerniglia fanned four and walked one. Smith passed one and whiffed three.

Clarke pitched until he got into trobule in the sixth. He allowed five hits and Slover two.

Middletown's DUSO record is 1-6.

Bethea Whips Paul Andrews

New York, May 28 (AP) — If Wayne Bethea's punch was half as strong as his chin, heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson would have plenty to worry about.

The 24-year-old New York truck loader sampled Paul Andrew's hardest wallops—the Buffalo longshoreman can clout with the best—and came on to gain a split decision in a telecast 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

The chunky New Yorker, using his 11-pound weight edge —201½ to 190½—to good advantage, wore down the thinlegged, 6-3 Andrews with his swarming attack.

Scoring with overhead rights and short combinations, Bethea swept the final three rounds from his tired rival to earn his third straight victory. Referee Petey Della (6-3-1) and Judge Leo Birnbaum (5-4-1) voted for Bethea. Judge Bill Forst (5-4-1) had Andrews ahead. The AP card had it even, 5-5.

Warren Frischmann, diver, and Jon Buzzard, a breaststroker, won Eastern Intercollegiate titles for Syracuse last winter.

Albany Wins Over Hawks

Albany State Teachers scored five runs in the first inning and that proved to be enough as they whipped New Paltz State Teachers College, 7-4, yesterday on the Paltz diamond.

Shoddy fielding, especially by the outfielders, opened the way for the big inning and cost Bob Meyer a chance for victory. All the opening inning markers were unearned.

Meyer pitched shutout ball over the last five frames, but by that time the damage was done. He spaced nine hits, struck out two and walked three.

Brown checked the Hawks with a six-hitter. He fanned and passed two.

Tom Murphy slammed a home run for New Paltz.

New Paltz is 2-6 on the season and travels to Oneonta State Thursday for its final game.

McBride Pitches One-Hitter as Monties Win, 5-0

Freshman righthander Mickey McBride missed pitching a no-hit game by one out yesterday as Monticello blanked visiting Fallsburgh Central, 5-0, as the village DUSO Leagues closed its season.

A two-out ground run double by opposing pitcher Teddy Kaplan in the final inning spoiled the 15-year-old youth's bid for a no-hitter. McBride then got the next hitter and wound up with a brilliant one-hit victory.

The triumph lifted the Monties into a tie with the Comets for second place in the final standings. Both broke even in the loop with 3-3 marks. Ellenville captured the flag in the four-team circuit with a 5-1 record.

McBride struck out six and walked three in hurling the masterpiece. Kaplan, who went all the way, gave up six hits, fanned seven and passed two.

John Anthony and Daye stroked doubles for the Monties.

Saugerties Club Moves to Expand Posted Lands

Concentrated efforts will be made to post as much Saugerties area deer hunting grounds as possible before the one-day anterless deer season this fall, it was announced at the Saugerties Fish and Game Club meeting last night at Saugerties Municipal building.

Vincent Berzal, chairman of the posting committee said he is consolidating his forces for an all-out drive to post all lands on which permission has been granted by area land owners and farmers.

"Property owners of deer hunting grounds and farmers with adjoining woodlots which furnish cover for deer can have their land protected from the expected havoc of a one-day anterless deer season, he said. Mr. Berzal can be reached for information about posting at Saugerties Sales and Service, Ulster avenue, Saugerties.

Mr. Berzal pointed out that posting by the club will not eliminate all hunting on that property. Club members will be permitted to hunt on property posted by the club. However all members are instructed to inform the owner when entering his property. This will prevent properties from being over-run by non-resident and out-of-town hunters seeking the abundant doe population in northern Ulster county, he said.

Acting on a recommendation of the Ulster County Federated Sportsmen's Clubs, President Walter B. Pettinger appointed a stream improvement committee headed by Arthur Sperl. The committee includes Harold Van Voorhis, Carlton B. King, Berzal, Carl Mehlig, Donald Delamater, Richard Bollin and Pettinger.

The committee will seek damage in local streams and make plans to repair the damage.

Plant 1,250 Trout

Sperl, chairman of the fish committee announced that 1,250 trout purchased with the cooperation of High Woods Sportsmen's Association, were planted in streams from Mt. Marion to West Saugerties and in parts of Saxton and Pine Grove. Pettinger said many were tagged with a tag returnable to Basil J. Kane, 9 Bennett avenue, Saugerties.

Sperl reported that the Federation banquet would be held at Wawarsing clubrooms Thursday, June 13 at 8 p. m. and that barbecued roast beef would be served. Frank C. Sloboda, vice-president of the Saugerties club is in charge of tickets.

John Kaminski, treasurer was named chairman of a committee to secure the services of Wallace Taber, big-game hunter for a personal appearance in Saugerties during the spring of 1958. Taber would lecture and show films of some of his adventures and would provide a means for raising funds for the building campaign of the club.

Two sound color films were shown during the serving of refreshments. Mr. Berzal served as projectionist.

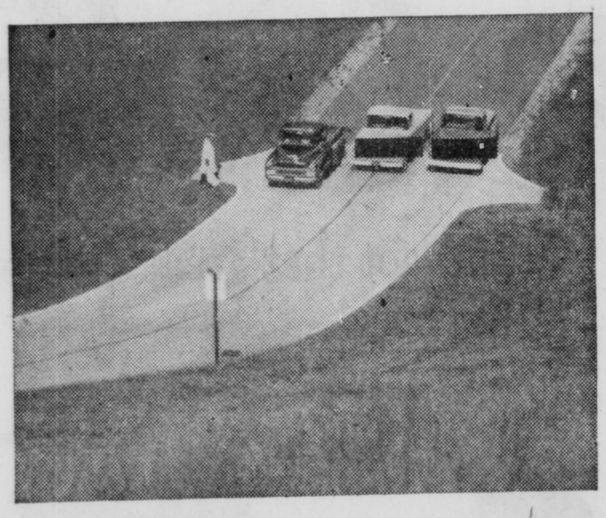
Dodge trucks lead the low-priced 3!

Special cameras like this new high-speed Hulcher "70", designed to take rapid-sequence photos of guided-missile launchings, were used to record tests. Electrically operated, the Hulcher "70" shoots 20 pictures a second.



THEY'RE OFF! Here's the start of a grueling hill-climb test. All three low-priced trucks were lined up at the bottom of a test grade equal to the steepest hill in San Francisco. At flag drop, test drivers floor gas pedals . . . the Dodge Power Giant leaps out in front.

Actual road tests . . . like the one photographed at the right . . . prove beyond question that Dodge Power Giants outclass all competition. This rugged hill climb is just one of a whole string of tests comparing all three low-priced trucks.

See certified test results of the entire series—actual unretouched photographs—at your own local Dodge dealer's. These tests, plus 15 minutes behind the wheel, will demonstrate to you that today's Dodge Power Giants lead the low-priced three in every measure by which you judge a truck.

You get the most V-8 power of the low-priced three . . . up to 232 horsepower. This gives you snappier performance to save valuable trip time . . . extra power to take steep climbs with less engine strain. And Dodge gives you extra payload capacity, too. For instance, the test pick-up shown hauls as much as 27% more than the other two low-priced makes.

Check today's low Dodge prices. You'll find eleven Power Giant models, in the low-tonnage field alone, that are actually the lowest priced of the low-priced three. Why not see for yourself? Your dealer will gladly bring a Dodge right to your door.

DODGE THE WINNER BY FIVE LENGTHS—and still gaining! The Dodge Power Giant outdistanced both truck "C" and truck "F" from the start. This is just one of a complete series of actual road tests that prove Dodge the outstanding leader of the low-priced three.

Nixon, King to Meet

Washington, May 28 (AP) — Aides said today Vice President Nixon has arranged to discuss racial problems with the Rev. Martin Luther King, Montgomery, Ala., Negro leader, on June 13. King, who met Nixon on the latter's trip to Africa several months ago, wrote the vice president asking for an appointment to talk over racial matters. He suggested several days, of which Nixon selected June 13 for a conference here.

POOR STUDENT—Polish film star Teresa Izewska, above, is shown May 25 in Paris before boarding a plane for Warsaw where she said she would be paid only $12 a month as a drama student. She was starred in a Polish film, "Kanal," which won second price at recent Cannes Film Festival. "Everyone tells me I am a great actress," she said, "but nobody knows the government had to buy me a dress and shoes before I left Warsaw." (AP Wirephoto)

Cuban Oil

Havana, Cuba (AP)—Cuba's infant oil industry is going ahead rapidly, but it still looks like a long time before the country can produce enough to satisfy domestic demands. The 1956 production was 40 per cent above that of 1955. But the output of 540,000 barrels last year was just enough to meet nine days of Cuba's domestic consumption. Ten million dollars were spent on oil exploration in 1956, compared with $7,500,000 in the preceding year. Cuban and American companies are leading the search for oil.

Music Fan

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—William B. McKesson, district attorney of Los Angeles county, appeared for a quiz session before a panel of teen-agers. He was asked if he thought rock 'n' roll should be outlawed and give this answer: "No. Personally I don't 'dig' it, but that doesn't mean I would want to ban it. There are good and bad elements in our current music. I believe that most teen-agers are wise enough not to carry the bad elements to excess."

Ensign Slain on Ship

San Francisco, May 28 (AP)—An ensign was shot to death and two other navy men were wounded today as an enlisted man went berserk on the navy cargo vessel Uvalde, at a Treasure Island pier.

Four others were held as hostages on the flying bridge of the attack cargo vessel. The navy reported at 9:15 a. m. (PDT) they had not yet been freed, but newspaper men close to the scene understood the four had escaped from the ship.

The dead man was reported to be Ens. Arthur Lusk Morris.

Approve Statehood

Washington, May 28 (AP)—The House Insular Affairs Committee today approved an Alaska statehood bill by a 24-6 vote.

Before acting, the committee knocked out of the bill a provision that Alaskans hold a general referendum on the question of whether they wished the territory to become a state before any of the admission machinery went into effect.

Says Ike's Unhappy

Washington, May 28 (AP)—President Eisenhower was pictured today as "not happy" that House Republican leaders are battling to restore only about 350 million dollars of a 2½-billion-dollar cut in new defense appropriations.

GOP Leader Martin (Mass.) so described Eisenhower's attitude after he and other Republican congressional leaders had their regular weekly meeting with the President.

Jordan Answers Syria

Amman, Jordan, May 28 (AP)—Jordan army headquarters charged today Syrian forces stationed in the Hashemite kingdom acted as "political police," intrigued to overthrow King Hussein and hired and armed assassins.

The official statement, broadcast by the government radio, was in reply to Syria's accusations that Jordan violated the Egyptian-Syrian-Jordanian military agreement in demanding the withdrawal of the 4,000-5,000 Syrian troops that had been in Jordan since the Israeli invasion of Egypt last fall.

Without Sin?

Mountlake Terrace, Wash. (AP)—The city fathers may have made a mistake in ordering a street survey. They wanted to see whether any residents had built on city property. An engineer found the paving meanders back and forth and the city fire hall is mostly on the right-of-way.

Pedestrian

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—A sea lion from Mission Bay disrupted traffic on Midway drive until Policemen Dick Sufficool and Charles Grimm shooed it back into the bay. It was loitering on the drive and ignoring the honks of motorists on their way to work.
